Aida Gloria Serafano is one of more than 60 Leisure World residents who will reach the enviable age of 100 years in 2019. The Golden Age Foundation will host a luncheon in their honor on April 9, and the LW Weekly will feature their stories in the weeks ahead. Everyone is invited to celebrate. Tickets are on sale now. For more information, see page 2; story by Ruth Osborn.

Aida Gloria Serafano is pushing into her second century of life with the alacrity of a kid at Christmas. On April 21, when she turns 100, she will join the swelling ranks of U.S. centenarians. It is one of the fastest growing groups in the country and includes more than 60 other Leisure World residents.

And these are not the frail, ailing housebound people you might imagine. Most of them are like Gloria, alert, mobile and active members of their community.

In fact, that's a hallmark of Gloria's life: No matter where she finds herself, she blooms. She nurtures purpose in her life, and in her wake, the people around her receive warmth, love, affection, hope and plenty of good cheer. And some of them are lucky enough to get her magnificent homemade spaghetti sauce.

Gloria is also remarkably resilient, deeply rooted in her Catholic faith and dynamic in her personality. Like every life, hers has had peaks and valleys—she has known poverty and joblessness and was widowed three times.

Her peaks? She had first-generation Italian-American parents who nurtured her can-do spirit. And her life has been permeated with a serendipity—some would call it divine intervention—that landed her in pleasant places.

Her Golden Childhood

She was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to Alphonso and Giovanna, who were among 4.5 million Italians who arrived in the United States in the early 1900s.

Being born in 1919, Gloria just missed the 1918 flu pandemic but lived through the Great Depression, both world wars, the women's suffrage movement, the moon landings; the Vietnam War, the fall of the Berlin Wall, the 9/11 terror attacks.

In the late 20s and 30s, in the midst of the Depression, Little Italy was a bustling place despite deprivation. Clothing was hand-me-down but carefully altered. Christmas trees were too expensive but letters to Santa were hopefully written, and brown stockings were hung on chairs, to be filled with a piece of fruit, candy and a few coins on Christmas morning.

Gloria's family of seven spent most of the wintertime in the gaslit kitchen because

CHANGE YOUR CLOCKS

Make sure you "spring forward" by setting clocks ahead one hour Saturday night before you go to bed.

Daylight Savings Time begins Sunday at 2 a.m., meaning you'll get an hour less sleep on Saturday night but the sunset will also happen an hour later Sunday evening.

RAIN UPDATE

A woman walks down the Amphitheater ramp in the rain.

Persistent showers bring drought relief

California is drenched and its mountains are piled high with snow to an extent that was unthinkable just a few months ago.

The U.S. Drought Monitor reported last week that more than 87 percent of California is free of drought conditions or unusual dryness and just over 2 percent remains in the drought category.

State water resources officials say the vital Sierra Nevada snowpack is now at 153 percent of average to date.

A measurement taken Feb. 28 at Phillips Station near Sierra-at-Tahoe found 113 inches of snow depth compared to just 13½ inches a year ago.

The Sierra snowpack supplies about 30 percent of California's water when it melts in spring and summer.

LW LIBRARY

Take a tour of the world-class gardens

The LW Library will host a bus trip on May 22 to The Huntington, which is celebrating its centennial year and is considered one of the world's great cultural, research and educational centers.

The property features 120 acres of specialized botanical landscaped gardens, most notably the Japanese Garden, the Desert Garden and the Chinese Garden. The center also boasts an extensive art collection with a focus in 18th- and 19th-century European art and 17th- to mid-20th-century American art.

The Huntington was founded in 1919 by Henry E. Huntington, an exceptional businessman who built a financial empire of railroads, real estate and utilities.

Huntington was also a man of vision—with a special interest in books, art and gardens. During his lifetime, he amassed one of the finest research libraries in the world, established a splendid art collection and created an array of botanical gardens with plants from a geographic range spanning the globe. These three distinct facets of The Huntington Estate are linked by a devotion to research, education, and beauty.

On this 90-minute outdoor walking tour, guests will have the opportunity to explore some of the magnificent gardens and learn how Henry and Arabella Huntington's San Marino Ranch was transformed into the world-famous cultural landmark that it is today.

Guests will be guided by expert docents through the elements of The Huntington and more than a dozen themed gardens, including:

- Rose Garden
- Shakespeare Garden
- Camellia paths
- Herb garden
- North Vista with garden sculptures
- Japanese Garden
- Chinese Garden
- Desert Garden

The tour will depart from Clubhouse 4 at 8:30 a.m. on May 22. Tickets are $58 and include bus fare and the admission ticket for museum with an hour-and-a-half docent tour. For tickets and information, call the Recreation Department at 431-6586, ext. 326.

SENIOR PATRIOTS

Learn more about Food Finders at meeting on March 12 at 1 p.m.

The Senior Patriots for Peace will meet at 1 p.m. on March 12, in Clubhouse 3, Room 4.

This is a new location.

Lisa Hoffmaster, the fund development director of Food Finders, a non-profit food rescue organization, will be the speaker.

She received her AA from Golden West College, her BFA from CSULB and a certification in Fundraising and Non-Profit Management from UCI. She has over 25 years of experience in the non-profit industry.

Food Finders grew from a grassroots organization to its current staff of 13 with hundreds of volunteers and food donors helping reduce hunger and food waste.

By 2018 the non-profit had distributed more than 118 million meals worth of food to nonprofits across several Southern California counties.

Arlene Mercer, concerned about perishable and prepared food being thrown away, was inspired to link donated food from area restaurants, grocers and produce marts to shelters and pantries to feed disadvantaged people in local communities.

In 30 years Food Finders has grown from a grassroots organization to its current size, rescuing nearly 150 million pounds of wholesome food and providing 125 million meals to over 600 partners.

This is the power of one.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

Like an old book with pages deteriorating and turning a hazy yellow, I too, had to admit the lenses of my eyes had aged and needed cataract surgery and lens replacement.

It's great that I have 20/20 vision but now what do I do with seven pairs of designer prescription eye glasses? Seal Beach Lions Club member Scott Newton informed me of the club's bright yellow mailbox-shaped receptacle just inside the large glass door of Clubhouse 5 and to the right of the Security entrance door.

Club members collect them, scan the prescriptions, then donate them to facilities for the needy who cannot afford the glasses. The collection and free distribution of used eyeglasses is the Lions Club's lifelong community endeavor.

I urge post-cataract surgery patients to donate their old and useless eyeglasses to the club's receptacle.

March right down to Clubhouse 5 and dump them. It's one more thing you can get rid of. I did.

The Leisure World Jolly Jills Red Hat Society recent meeting was delightful. Everyone had a great time socializing.

The birthday girls were myself and Julia Troise. Enthusiastic hostesses Lucy Fralix, Darlene Ross and Pat Miller served nutritious, delicious refreshments. Everyone had fun feasting.

Princess Carmen Leslie notified the members of some changes of the Jolly Jill's phone list roster for 2019 and discussed some issues. Pat presented interesting games that were full of fun, enjoyable and kept members alert.

What a wonderful way to spend socializing with awesome friends.

California the No.14 target for scam calls at tax season

by Jim Breen
jimb_news@lwsb.com

According to a new study, California was the 14th most targeted state in the country for phone scams over the last three tax seasons.

After analyzing 15 million consumer complaints released by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) from 2016-18, California reported 1,891 FTC complaints per 100,000 residents.

The study by allareacodes.com ranked Anaheim No. 26 and Los Angeles County, No. 81

The analysis revealed that phone scams increase by 20 percent in March and April compared to January so they will probably begin ramping up again soon.

The allareacodes.com site provides a complete list of every area code in the country.

A Mutual 8 resident has received as many as 10 robo calls a day from the same number. When she answered, there was only silence on the other end. When she called the number, there was no answer.

The best advice is to note the phone number, call the Do Not Call List (1-888-382-1222) and report it by following the prompts.

The FTC encourages consumers to file complaints online at www.ftc.org, or by calling the FTC's Consumer Response Center at 1-877-FTC-HELP (1-877-382-4357).

Irma Pazmino wasted no time dispatching a nosy scammer looking for personal information. When he called last week, the man asked some unusual questions.

"Do you have a bank account and checking account?" When she replied affirmatively, he asked: "Do you have a minimum of $5,000 in one of them?" Instead of answering, Ms. Pazmino ended the conversation with a click. "He expected me to give him one of those numbers, but I didn't," she said. Wise decision.

Have you been the victim of a scam attempt? Send details to Jim Breen at the email address above or call 431-6586, ext. 387, Wednesday-Friday between 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

SECURITY CORNER

Vehicle Safety

by Victor Rocha
Security Services Director

This week's focus is on driving safety within the community.

Every comprehensive vehicle driving safety program starts with each individual driver knowing their own capabilities and limits:

- Avoid driving at night if you have trouble with your vision.

- Raise your seat high enough so you have a clear view of the road (sit on a small pillow if necessary).

- There are some medications that can impair your driving skills. Always be alert.

As always, follow these safety steps:

- Practice defensive driving in the community. Be aware that other vehicles and pedestrians may not always observe traffic rules or signals.

- Ensure your windshield wipers are in good condition.

- Allow for proper stopping distances, especially in rain or during hours of darkness.

- Use your seat belt.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding driving safety, please contact me at 431-6586, ext. 371, or by e-mail at victorr@lwsb.com.

The campaign cycle for the GRF Board of Directors begins soon. During 2019, the Board seats representing the odd-numbered Mutuals are up for election. During even-numbered years, the Board seats representing even-numbered Mutuals are up for election.

Any member in good standing is eligible to be a candidate for the Golden Rain Foundation Board of Directors representing their odd-numbered Mutual. A member in good standing is defined by the GRF By-laws as a Mutual shareholder/owner who is no more than 30 days in arrears of their carrying charge, or in arrears of any fines or fees.

Candidates may self-nominate or be nominated by their Mutual's Nominating Committee or Board of Directors.

"Application for Candidacy" forms are available in the Stock Transfer Office in the Administration Building. Candidates who are self-nominated must complete an "Application for Candidacy" before 4:30 p.m. on Friday, April 5.

Candidates who are nominated by their Mutual's nominating committee or board of directors will have their names submitted to Stock Transfer by the Mutual's secretary. All statements are due before 4:30 p.m. on Friday, April 5.

When turning in the Application for Candidacy, Eligibility Disclaimer, and statement, members must show their current Leisure World photo identification card. Candidates will receive a receipt when turning in their application materials.

Mutual Election Cycle Begins; Directors are needed

The community unity displayed in Leisure World Seal Beach is a direct result of all the unpaid volunteer Mutual and GRF board members duly elected to serve their mutuals and the shareholders over many years. What better way to create and sustain a community such as Leisure World then by volunteering time toward the governance of the incredible lifestyle shareholders enjoy?

This community was founded on the premise that the Mutual Boards and the elected board directors would set into operation the day-to-day business of each mutual corporation. Directors address the issues of most importance to their electorate, that is, the shareholders. Board directors find solutions to existing problems, large and small. This is not an easy job. It takes time, effort and a willingness to unselfishly donate a portion of a person's everyday life to the community in which they live.

Leisure World Seal Beach is full of highly qualified shareholders who have so much expertise to offer, such as knowledge of construction, plumbing and

HEALTH CARE CENTER

Class on March 13 will give a voice to the silent disease

March is Kidney Disease Awareness Month, focusing on a disease that affects 14 percent of Americans.

To help raise awareness and understanding of the disease, the Health Care Center will hold a special class on kidney disease at 10 a.m. on March 13 at HCC conference room 1. It is class is open to all residents.

The class will be led by Jodi Mainwal, a registered nurse who is certified in kidney disease management.

"Kidney disease is called a silent disease, because the symptoms don't show for a long time," Jodi said. "By the time someone sees the symptoms, the disease is harder to treat." Symptoms include nausea, vomiting, unexplained weight loss and more.

Since these don't show up until later, Jodi encourages people to get screened regularly.

"This is an important screening. These screenings are done with simple blood and urine tests. If things don't look normal, then your doctor knows to investigate more."

"People who have other chronic diseases, like diabetes and or high blood pressure, are at greater risk for kidney disease," Jodi said. "If you have one of these conditions, your doctor may screen you more often for kidney disease."

To help prevent it, the best thing is a healthy diet.

"Your body needs a lot of different nutrients, and it gets those from good food," Jodi explained. "Depending on how healthy your kidneys are, you might need to change your diet. Everyone can benefit from eating healthy protein, watching their salt intake, and exercising regularly."

GRF Movie

"Jimmy's Hall," rated PG-13, will be shown at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 10, in Clubhouse 4.

In 1921, Jimmy Gralton's sin was to build a dance hall on a rural crossroads in an Ireland on the brink of civil war.

The Pearse-Connolly Hall was a place where young people could come to learn, to argue, to dream, but above all to dance and have fun. As the hall grew in popularity, its socialist and free-spirited reputation brought it to the attention of the church and politicians, who forced Jimmy to flee and the hall to close.

Some scenes and language may offend some viewers.

Can't make the movie? Borrow it from the LW Library for free any time.

Lapidary Club Meeting

The Lapidary Club will meet at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, March 20, in the Lapidary Room of Clubhouse 4. Club President Dean Jacobus has called the membership meeting to discuss the future of the club.

These programs are interesting and informative.

A coin auction will conclude the meeting.

Even people who are not yet collectors are welcome to these educational and fun meetings. All are welcome to attend. New members are presented with a gift of a coin.

LW ORCHESTRA

Calling all musicians to a LW mainstay

The Leisure World Orchestra is a vibrant group of musicians who take great delight at weekly practice sessions and occasional concerts for the LW community.

It welcomes people who have classical music interest and talent that has been dormant since high school or college. Now is the time to rehabilitate that talent and relive the fun of playing classical music.

Conductor Rae Boeving is a gifted music teacher who can help people develop their musical talent during rehearsals.

"I had not played my cello in over 40 years and thought why not? I was scared to death to join the group," said Donna Chavez of Mutual 11. She picked up her cello about three years ago and has been playing ever since. With Rae's help, she improved her playing to become first cello.

Fred Reker played the string bass back in the 50s and filled in with some local orchestras in the 70s and 80s but had not played for 30 years when he moved to Mutual 6 in 2016.

Fortunately, he still had his bass and joined the orchestra.

COMMUNITY SING

Ethel Carter to lead sing-along

by Ethel Carter
LW contributor

Leisure World residents are invited to attend the Community Sing Monday, March 11, at 6:30 p.m. in the lobby of Clubhouse 3. To participate in the first half hour of Opening Acts, people should come at 6 to sign in with the emcee, Ethel Carter, bringing sheet music for the pianist. Ethel will lead group singing until 7:15 when she will introduce her half-time guest, the popular singer, Donna Burr.

On Feb. 25, Byong Choi was the leader. The Opening Acts started with Ethel Carter singing “Let Us All Sing,” followed by Chuck Zeman who sang “Because of You” (a capella); Bruce Dupont, “Yesterday”; Clarence Hoffman, “Little Church in the Wildwood”; and Bob Barnum, “I Left My Heart in San Francisco.” Pianist Barbara McIlhaney accompanied four of the opening acts.

Byong’s half-time guests were members of the Korean Guitar Group, leader Sang Hyun Kim, Samuale Yim, Changsung Oh, Jyunz Young Hak, Unsoo Lee and Gyung Un Lee. They played and sang “Eidelweiss,” “My Darling Clementine” and “Whispering Hope.”

The two women in the group sang in lovely harmony. Byong joined in “O Solo Mia,” singing in different languages, accompanied by Sang Hyun Kim.

Byong then wrapped up group singing and everyone sang “Kum-baya” to end the musical evening.

Thanks to pianist Barbara McIlhaney and book transporter, Vita Villamor.

The show starts at 5:45; the band will play from 6-9 p.m. All Leisure World residents and their guests are welcome.

The Let the Good Times Roll Club sponsors a show and dance on the third Saturday evening of the odd-numbered months. Over the club’s eight years of providing free entertainment, it has hosted great rock and roll music from bands like Ray and the Idols, Sam Morrison playing Bob Seger, the Rock-its, and LW’s own Ben Berg and the Rhythm Rockers.

Following in that tradition, the club will introduce Sugar Lips, a classic rock band that recreates the music of Journey, Tom Petty, Steppenwolf, Aerosmith, ZZ-Top and others.

To get a head start on St. Paddy’s Day, the theme is an Irish wake party. Expect lots of green shirts, hats, socks, signs, beads, ties and hair. Everyone is welcome to bring snacks and beverages. COMMUNITY KARAOKE

Duets bring harmony to musical night

The Community Karaoke Club welcomed 33 singers in a night highlighted by several duets, which featured friends and spouses in beautiful harmony. Betty and Virgil Bagstad did an unusual song “Spiders & Snakes” while Sue and Walter Piippo sang “Listen to What the Man Said.” Tony Tupas and Ruby Johnson chose “Endless Love,” followed by Janice Chapman and Rosemary Freman, “Sincerely”; and the Barnum brothers Bob and Ray, who sang a few songs.

Pete Tupas did a smooth Platters tune called “Only You.” Jerry Schwin surprised the audience with a robust acapella version of “Lucky Old Sun,” in a night that included David Noble singing Elvis’ “Trying to Get to You”; Anna Le, “Yesterday When I was Young”; Diane Kasperon, “You Light up My Life” and Rick Hering, “My Heart Cries for You.”

Thanks to Tony Tupas and Bev Adams for being substitute KJ’s last week. They did a fine job.

New York cheese steak sandwiches will be the party fare next week, March 13, as the club celebrates St. Patrick’s Day at the Wednesday night karaoke party. Wearin’ of the green is the color of the day. Singers can find Irish tunes in the Artist songbook starting on page 127.

Everyone is welcome to join the fun at 5:30 p.m. in Clubhouse 1. Enjoy the friendly atmosphere and encourage friends and neighbors to sing favorite tunes. Practice sessions are held from 1-3 p.m. in Clubhouse 6 on Tuesdays.

LW ART LEAGUE

Renowned caricaturist will demonstrate

by Steve Moore
LW contributor

The Leisure World Art League has planned an especially fun and exciting evening March 12 with a demonstration by widely acclaimed caricaturist Justin Galloway.

The monthly meeting starts at 7 p.m. in Clubhouse 4 and people are urged to arrive early to get good seats.

The Art League demos always draw a large turnout.

In this instance, raffle tickets will be sold in advance of the demonstration to select those who would like the opportunity to become models for Justin's impressive talent at capturing faces and personalities.

The demonstration promises to be entertaining and educational, as Justin not only shows off his impressive artistic skills but also explains how he has translated his gifts into commercial success.

Justin has been making a living as a professional caricaturist since 1994 when he graduated from the University of Tulsa with a BFA in painting and began working for a caricature concessionaire at Six Flags over Texas. After several years of working 12-hour days and honing his craft on the theme park patrons, he accepted a management position within the company and spent the next seven years training and supervising the caricature artists at Six Flags over Georgia.

Justin developed enough of a freelance client base that in 2004 he began working independently, owning and operating caricature concessions in Georgia, Florida,

Texas and Southern California and doing humorous illustrations for individual and corporate clients alike. Some of his clients have included Coca-Cola, Delta Airlines, Warner Bros. Studios, Porsche Cars and the NFL.

He draws live at parties and events, fairs and festivals and also works at home in his studio from photographs submitted by clients all over the world.

Justin still enjoys drawing and caricaturing faces as much as he did as a child when he would copy pages from MAD Magazine and create his own comics.

"I'm still doing what I did in First Grade," he says. "I just get paid to do it now."

Those interested in previewing Justin's work and learning more about this talented artist are encouraged to visit his Instagram page at @studiogalloway.

Members are reminded to submit their art work for display by 6:30 p.m.

The popular choice theme this month is "Portrait."

As always, refreshments will be available and art supplies donated by members will be on sale.

LW Coin Club

The Leisure World Coin Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 13, in Clubhouse 3, Room 2. The meeting will feature a member show-and-tell.

As coin collectors, both metal and paper money, members may bring in a part of their collections to show and explain the history of, or the story behind, the piece.

These programs are interesting and informative.

A coin auction will conclude the meeting.

Even people who are not yet collectors are welcome to these educational and fun meetings.

All are welcome to attend.

New members are presented with a gift of a coin.

In March, the Hui O Hula Hawaiian dance club celebrates the beginning of its 15th year in LW. The hui/group began on St. Patrick's Day 2005 with just a handful of dancers. Pat Fellers (center) was among them. Hula dancers would like to express their gratitude to the Golden Rain Foundation and the Recreation Department for their help and guidance. Fifteen years ago, the second floor of Clubhouse 6 was just one room. A wall and mirrors were put up later for the benefit of LW dance clubs.

Pickleball is fastest growing sport in United States

by Darlene Boyce
LW contributor

Congressmen Joel Pritchard, Barney McCallum and Bill Bell invented a paddle game, known as pickleball, on Bainbridge Island in the summer of 1965.

As McCallum remembers, Joel and Joan Pritchard invited friends to their summer cabin on Bainbridge Island for a picnic. It was a typical dreary, rainy afternoon when Joel and Bill Bell returned home from a game of golf to find the kids complaining about being bored and having nothing to do. Joel finally picked up a ping-pong paddle and a plastic softball-size fun ball and told the kids to go the badminton court and hit the ball around.

After a period of time, one of the parents became concerned about the kids. Joel and a neighbor, Dick Brown, walked to the court to find the kids totally involved in hitting the ball over the badminton net. That was the beginning of “pickleball.”

Through trial and error, and parental intervention, the net was lowered, changing the dynamics of the game. The ball bounced well on the asphalt court. Instead of softly volleying the ball over the net it could be hit harder using tennis-type strokes, but the harder strokes caused some paddles to break. By the end of that first day, everyone agreed the paddles were too small and they needed to be made of stronger material.

That night, Barney designed two paddles. Using the band saw in his basement, he cut out the paddles, the M1 and M2 (McCallum).

Barney and Joel tried out the new paddles the next morning. The M2 stuck. Basically the shape of the M2 is the shape still used today.

Joel, Bill and Barney developed the rules on an as needed basis. For example: one foot was allowed inside the end line on the serve to avoid the server from hitting the huge Madrone tree. To avoid an argument the hand was agreed upon as part of the paddle, and the height of the net was established at 36 inches because that was the height of Joel’s waist.

By the end of summer the men agreed on the paddle, ball, scoring, and a variation of rules from badminton, ping-pong and tennis. But, they knew the game was still lacking balance. They didn’t want aggressive players to dominate the game. The initial rule had players stand behind the 3-foot wide short serve line (where players stood behind to hit the ball on the badminton court). The double bounce rule was created and the short serve line was moved back in 6-inch increments to the 7-foot width, the non-volley zone, as it is known today. The combinations of these two rules increased the volleys and techniques in shots. But most of all, they brought balance to the game.

ST. PATRICK’S DAY

Get tickets for dinner/dance
The GRF second annual St. Patrick’s Day dinner/dance will be held in Clubhouse 4 on Sunday, March 17. The aroma of corned beef and cabbage, catered by Koffel’s Food Service, will fill the air, and there will be Irish music provided by The Bracken Band, an authentic Celtic group.
The Bracken Band features Marian Tomas Griffin on guitar and vocals and Chris Murphy on violin. They’re influenced by artists such as The Pogues, Van Morrison, Horslips, The Waterboys and Alison Krauss. The Bracken Band plays jigs, reels, romantic and drinking songs that will entertain anyone – from the rolling green hills of Ireland, to the stunning chaparral expanses of Southern California.
Tickets are available at the Recreation Office, located in Building 5. Dinner, dancing, green non-alcoholic beer, all included for $20 or $160 for a table of eight. Doors open at 4:30 p.m. The band plays from 5-8 p.m.
It’s sure to be a blast, so practice the jig, dig out some green duds from the closet and call all your fellow leprechauns. Tickets will be on sale soon and groups and clubs can also buy tables of eight. Save the date and watch LW Weekly for more information or contact events@lwsb.com.

Box, Kenneth W.

Ken Box, 25 year resident of Mutual 11, passed away on Dec. 29, 2018, from complications from a fall.

He played and coached tennis for the city and college of Whittier for 42 years, and also coached at Schurr and Saddleback high schools.

He was a trombonist in the Air Force Band during the Korean War, and continued playing in pick-up bands for another 50 years. Maybe you had the pleasure of him serenading you with a jazzy version of “The Happy Birthday Song” via the phone.

He also worked for several travel agencies and used to do a weekly travel column for The News. Many of the ladies will remember him for his dancing skills, and many a friend saw him regularly at the gym or walking the perimeter of Leisure World after dinner.

He is survived by five cousins and numerous nieces and nephews.

Internment was at the Riverside National Cemetery.

A farewell gathering will be held for his Leisure World and Whittier friends at the Seal Beach Tennis Center, 3900 Lampson Ave., at 1 p.m. on March 16. All are invited to attend, to share stories and memories and laughter. Call Kathy McKalip at (714) 309-7676, or Joan Marcum at 594-0402, of Leisure World, for further information.

Martin, Bee
Sept. 19, 1927-Feb. 19, 2019

Bee Martin passed peacefully from this life the morning of Feb. 19, 2019, after a gradual decline in health. She was surrounded and supported by her loving family and caregivers during the last days of her life.

Bee was born in Shelley, Idaho, and moved to Southern California following graduation from high school in 1945.

In 1948 she married William “Bill” Johnson and in 1951 they had Jeffrey William Johnson. Bee first worked at Bank of America in Los Angeles then later became the controller of Great Basin Petroleum in Century City. Living in Hollywood and later Beverly Hills, she spent her time following and participating in the Hollywood social scene and traveling the world.

Bee later relocated to Palm Springs and worked for the Palm Springs Visitor Bureau where she met her second husband, Harold Martin. Bee and Harold traveled the United States and settled into retirement. They purchased a place in Leisure World at Seal Beach to spend their summers, and winters were spent in the desert at La Quinta.

After Harold’s death in 1998, Bee continued to bounce back and forth between the desert and the beach until 2003 when she made Seal Beach her full time home.

Activities in Seal Beach that she enjoyed included the Leisure World Bridge Club, the Red Hat Society and the Rossmoor Woman’s Club.

Some of Bee’s favorite things were the color pink, Almond Roca, creme brulee, crab legs, roasted lamb with mint jelly, the Hallmark Channel, People Magazine, reading biographies and her annual birthday trip to Las Vegas where she snuggled up to a piano bar, video poker and a vodka dry martini with blue cheese stuffed olives.

The Yiddish Club of Leisure World will meet tonight, March 7, at 7 in Clubhouse 3, Room 2.

The topic will be the "Meaning of Purim and the Megila."

After words and proverbs in Yiddish are presented, President Yakob Basner will talk about the topic and recite stories and humor about Purim.

Well-known Yiddish singer, Harriet Benesh will perform Purim songs.

Refreshments will be served after the program.

Through the efforts of Joel and Barney, Pickleball continued to grow in popularity off Bainbridge Island.

Joel was running for Congress at this time. When his fundraisers and political events concluded, Joel would announce they were going to play Pickleball. Barney's contribution came through family and friends playing on the court he set-up in front of his Seattle home. A pickleball night was established in Connolly Center at Seattle University. The president/publisher of the New York Times sent a "guy" to Seattle to see what Pickleball was all about. A couple of days after he returned to New York, Barney received a phone call. He agreed on making starter sets for $29.50. (Pickleball, Inc., had all ready been created by Joe, Bill and Barney to keep up with the paddle demand in the early 1970s). Barney knew there was no going back when he received mailbags filled with envelopes containing starter set orders and checks for $29.50.

Joan Pritchard named the paddle sport. The game reminded her of the Pickle Boar crew where oarsmen were chosen from leftovers of other boats. The idea of the paddle sport being named after a dog was funnier, even though they got their dog a couple of years after the game was established. The Cocker Spaniel was named after the game, not the other way around.

Pickleball initially spread to schools in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Missouri. Today every state in the United States, all Canadian provinces, India, Spain, Finland, France, Belgium, New Zealand and China have pickleball venues. Senior communities, recreation centers, schools, parks, colleges, and cruise ships are just some of the locations where Pickleball is played. Last year a pilot program at Cook County Jail was such a success, correctional facilities in Washington State and the jail on Rikers Island are incorporating pickleball into the inmates activities. In 2010, an estimated 100,000 pickleball players played in the United States. By 2015, that number increased to 2.5 million.

Sports & Fitness Industry Association (SFIA) recognized Pickleball as "the fastest growing sport in the United States."

OPERA CLUB

LA Opera speaker is featured March 11

Everyone is invited to attend the Opera Club meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, March 11, in Clubhouse 3, Room 2. Speaker Rebecca Browne from the LA Opera will give a talk and show a video on a little known Mozart opera. LA Opera speaker Larry Verdugo, who has twice given presentations to club members, will be back in May with a program Verdi's "La Traviata," which some call the most popular opera in the world.

Browne will focus on Mozart's last opera, which has not been among his most popular. It is mostly unknown even to opera fans. "La Clemenza di Tito," the original Italian name, also known as "The Clemency of Titus," is enjoying a rebirth, being performed at the LA Opera this month.

The story concerns the Roman emperor Titus and the politics and romantic intrigues in his upper circle. Mozart's music is as beautiful and heartfelt as always.

It is hoped Browne's presentation will pave the way for some members to arrange to see the live performance in Los Angeles and see a full classic version at the club's April 6 and 10 meetings.

Club member Gary Hart will give a brief introduction about the opera before it is shown.

The club is grateful to the LA Opera for providing enjoyable speakers and annually enabling Leisure World opera-loving residents to enjoy the treat of a live opera performance each year via a bus arranged by the GRF Recreation Department. For more information, contact Beverly Emus, Opera Club president, at 296-5586 or bemus@socal.rr.com.

it had the only heat source in the house, a coal stove.

And in the summers, hordes of kids from big Italian families like hers had “one heck of a good time.” They played softball in each other’s back yards, had sing-alongs around someone’s piano and staged plays for the neighborhood.

Gloria’s father died when she was a child, leaving her mother to raise five kids. Even though material possessions were few, the nuggets of maternal wisdom have lasted a lifetime.

“My mama was an intelligent woman,” said Gloria, who always wanted to be a writer, and indeed, did become a regular contributor to the LW News in the 1990s.

“One day she sat me down at the table with a pencil and paper. She said, ‘I want you to write a story about our family.’ So I wrote it, and she got a hammer and nailed the paper to the kitchen wall. Then she pointed to it and said, ‘You can do whatever you want to do in this life.’”

Gloria took that to heart and with it, the determination needed to make it true.

Married-to-Single in Three Years

At age 18, Gloria married the much older Dominic Tripodi, and the couple moved to New York. They had a daughter, Rosemarie. When she was two, Dominic died.

In a devastating twist of fate, Gloria was faced with the realities of single parenthood.

She had to move from a spacious apartment on Fourth Street in Greenwich Village to a flat in Brooklyn, where she hung washing on a pulley, praying it would still be there when she came back, and chain her baby buggy to an iron staircase to avoid theft. She worked as a sales clerk, determined to find a second job as she was making barely enough to survive.

“As a child of the Depression, with the taste of poverty still fresh on my lips, I was bound and determined to get out of this environment and find a second part-time job,” she wrote in a May 11, 1995, LW News column.

She decided to go apartment hunting. Meandering down Sixth Avenue, she was captivated by a newly renovated building with a vacancy sign. She marched inside, was shown the apartment—windows in every room—and before she knew it, she had convinced building manager Mae Nicolauk, aka “Mom Nic,” that she could work as the janitor one day a week, tend the furnace and manage the steam, which were the requirements for renting the apartment.

Gloria with the love of her life, Don Serafano

“I knew I could do it, having helped my sister-in-law with the apartment building she managed. I begged Mom Nic for a chance,” said Gloria. She was skeptical but liked Gloria’s gutsy determination and gave her the job and the apartment. It was one of many serendipitous moments that shaped Gloria’s life.

In another lucky twist, Mom Nic’s son-in-law was the plant manager at Fada Radio, a company famous for its “Bullet” radio. By 1939, Fada introduced the first commercially available TV—a black-and-white with a three-inch screen—at the New York World’s Fair.

WWII put a hold on TV development and stopped the production of consumer electronics. But the wartime electronics industry was booming. Gloria got one of those jobs, which required government training in wiring, soldering, and reading electronics blueprints.

“I was elated. I accepted,” she said. “At Fada Radio, my salary doubled” but she remained loyal as the Saturday super in her apartment building.

Serendipity and the Golden State

By the early 1940s, Gloria was a lonely 24-year-old widow in New York with a toddler, working long days at the Long Island Fada Radio plant. A good friend suddenly moved to California and two weeks later, Gloria got a letter from her pal urging her to go west.

“Why not?” she asked herself. There was plenty of war work all over the country. With characteristic spontaneity, she hopped on a Greyhound bus bound for the west coast.

It was Jan. 6, 1943, a snowy Wednesday when the bus pulled out of the depot. The president was Franklin D. Roosevelt. People were watching “Shadow of a Doubt,” directed by Alfred Hitchcock, in the movie theaters.

And Gloria was beginning a four-and-a-half-day journey along Route 66. Rosemarie was staying with her East Coast grandma.

On the bus, Gloria sat next to a mostly silent older woman; it was another chance encounter that would change Gloria’s destiny.

The bus rolled on and on—Cleveland, Chicago, Tulsa, Amarillo, Santa Fe, Flagstaff. Finally grove upon grove of orange trees and the heady aroma of their blossoms signaled her entrance into the Golden State.

Gloria was going to Oakland, but when her seatmate heard of Gloria’s destination, she finally spoke up.

Don’t go there alone, she advised. It’s dangerous.

Meanwhile Gloria suddenly remembered that she had not called her friend Clara to let her know she was coming, and she realized the number she had for Clara was not in service.

Her bus buddy advised Gloria to stay in Los Angeles, at the trusty YWCA.

Gloria did just that. And when she got there, they gave her a room and directions to the state department of employment. She landed a job at Consolidated Vultee Aircraft in Downey, where she ultimately settled. During the war years, she was a Rosie the Riveter, working on P-38 bomber wings.

Life was good, with Rosemarie at her side, and the balmy California weather, a beautiful perk. Gloria went on to have a long career at Douglas Aircraft Co., her electronics training serving her well.

Times grew hard in 1977. Gloria had been married six months, when her husband, Raymond Bisailon, was diagnosed with terminal cancer. Gloria took care of him for two years, until he died. She worked by day and went to the hospital at night. It took a heavy toll. But the story is never over until it’s over.

The Golden Years in LW

In fact, she met the love of her life, Don Serafano, shortly after moving into Leisure World at the age of 62, long after most people would have written off the possibility.

They met in a nearby bank of all places, hit it off and married.

They enjoyed a quarter century of wedded bliss, marked by worldwide travel, dancing at LW clubs, a wide circle of friends and family, and, of course, amazing home-cooked Italian food.

I had the best “25 years in my old age. It’s a miracle,” she said of finding Don in the latter chapters of her amazing story.

She attributes her longevity to her strong faith in God and a heart of gratitude for all the blessings he has showered upon her. Because of that, there is one true thing that propels her.

“One word,” she said with her brilliant smile. “Love!”

“Just love everyone, even the grumpy ones. Give them a hug or a smile. Tell them they’re the best.”

“It is in loving and sharing that we find joy. It’s the most precious gift in the world, and it never fails.”

The Basic Rules of Sudoku:
• There is only one valid solution to each Sudoku puzzle. The only way the puzzle can be considered solved correctly is when all 81 boxes contain numbers and the other Sudoku rules have been followed.
• When you start a game of Sudoku, some blocks will be pre-filled for you. You cannot change these numbers in the course of the game.
• Each column must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same column of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
• Each row must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same row of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
• Each block must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same block of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
