Comic Scott Wood

Harmony—Three Dog Night Tribute

Scott Wood, comic opener

Sponsor: Seal Beach Dermatology Associates

Food Drive: Bring non-perishables to benefit veterans (see page 16).

Buffalo-born Chuck Negron, Cory Wells and Danny Hutton marked the year 1968 with Three Dog Night’s first chart-buster hit song “One.” The band registered a total of 21 Billboard Top 40 hits. Its beautifully-blended vocals backed by a solid rock ‘n’ roll, R&B rhythm section became a staple of the late 60s and early 70s.

Harmony, a Los Angeles-based tribute show, recreates the legend of Three Dog Night in both look and sound. It will play “Mama Told Me,” and other No. 1 hits, including “Black and White,” “Joy to the World” and more with “spot on” vocals that will melt away the years. Now a national show, Harmony will be a highlight of the season for Three Dog Night fans.

Comic Scott Wood

Scott Wood, aka “Mr. Punchline,” has been hailed as one of the funniest stand-up comics working today. Scott, whose often called the new Rodney Dangerfield, has performed across the United States and abroad and appeared on ABC, NBC, FOX, the Family Channel and Comedy Central.

He has opened for Donna Summer, Frankie Avalon, Chubby Checker, Brooks and Dunn, Debbie Reynolds and more.

Scott’s clean comedy and voice impressions can currently be heard on XM Radio and he’s traveling throughout California opening for the “Best of Doo Wop,” with the Platters, Drifters, Coasters and many more.

Born in Glendora, California, Scott Wood has been cracking audiences up since going full time with his comedy in 1989. Among this career highlights are winning every comedy contest he’s entered and winning the Improv comedy club’s talent search for funniest comedian.

FUN ON THE FOURTH

Smart Driver Class

The AARP Senior Smart Driver course will be held on July 15 and 16 in Clubhouse 3, Room 9, from 1-5 p.m. each day. This is for people who have never taken a Smart Driver course. AARP members pay $15, non-members, $20, cash only. To reserve a spot and for more information, call Ruth Bradley, (714) 401-2237.

Shareholders are bombarded with scam calls from ‘SSA’

by Cathie Merz
cathiem_news@lwsb.com

Acting Inspector General of Social Security Gale Stallworth Stone has issued a warning about an ongoing phone scam from thieves pretending to be from the Social Security Administration (SSA).

Several shareholders have called, stopped by the office and emailed questioning calls they have received from “Social Security” declaring that their Social Security number (SSN) “has been suspended for suspicion of illegal activity,” and advises the person to contact a specific phone number immediately.

Most of these calls are “robocalls” or automated calls. The robo-call or caller may also warn that if you don’t call back, your assets or benefits will be frozen until your alleged issue is resolved.

Nancy Davidson, Mutual 3, said “The voice was very authoritative which would intimidate the unwary call recipient.”

Remember that Social Security or any government agency will not contact a person by phone. Government agencies correspond in writing through the U.S. Mail.

The SSA established a “Robocall Strike Force” in 2016 to develop solutions to prevent, detect and filter unwanted robocalls. The task force was made up of communications companies including cell and landline service providers, phone manufacturers, operating system (OS) developers and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). Members included such communications leaders as Apple, Bandwidth, Comcast, Google, Microsoft, Sprint, T-Mobile, and Verizon. However, two years later, there doesn’t seem to be any real progress made to stop robocalls.

You receive a robocall about an amazing business opportunity. You can work from home and make hundreds, maybe even thousands, of dollars doing something simple, right from home. Sounds like a winning deal, right? Well, it’s not.

The work-from-home call may float the names of major companies (“You can make hundreds as an authorized Amazon affiliate,” for example). Or the offer may be for you to work stuffing envelopes, doing data entry or assembling crafts, among other things. Training isn’t required, but, of course, you’ll have to pay something upfront for supplies, certification, coaching, website design, client leads, etc. In return you may get a load of useless information, or nothing at all, or a demand that you place more ads to recruit more people into the scheme.

- The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) receives roughly 10,000 complaints a year about work-at-home scams.
- Don’t assume work-from-home offers are real just because they have a website, appear in the newspaper or even on a legitimate job site.
- Website testimonials for these businesses are often fake, typically revolving around a struggling individual suddenly making lots of money after taking advantage of this amazing opportunity.
- If your earnings are tied primarily on recruiting other people to join the operation, this is a pyramid scheme, not a job opportunity.
- Before you sign up or send any money, check out the company offering the job with your state consumer protection agency and with the Better Business Bureau.
- Ask detailed questions. The FTC recommends you ask how you will be paid (such as by salary or commission), who will pay you and when, and exactly what you will get for any money you provide.
- Learn about the FTC’s Business Opportunity Rule, which requires companies to disclose key information about business opportunities they are selling.
- If you have been targeted by this scam or have fallen victim, call the AARP Fraud Watch Network Helpline at (877) 908-3360 for guidance and support.

When it comes to fraud, vigilance is the number one weapon. You have the power to protect yourself and your loved ones from scams. Share this alert with friends and family and visit the AARP Fraud Watch Network, www.aarp.org, for more information.

Making History

July 11, 1804 - In a duel held in Weehawken, New Jersey, Vice President Aaron Burr fatally shot his long-time political antagonist Alexander Hamilton. Hamilton, a leading Federalist and the chief architect of America’s political economy, died the following day.

July 13, 1985 - Prince Charles and Princess Diana officially open Live Aid at Wembley Stadium in London. The worldwide rock concert raised money for the relief of famine-stricken Africans. The 16-hour “superconcert” continued at JFK Stadium in Philadelphia and at other arenas around the world. It raised more than $125 million in famine relief for Africa.

July 17, 1955 - Disneyland, Walt Disney’s metropolis of nostalgia, fantasy and futurism opened. The $17 million theme park was built on 160 acres of former orange groves in Anaheim, and soon brought in staggering profits. Today, Disneyland hosts more than 14 million visitors a year, who spend close to $3 billion.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

It is easy for people who don’t need a service and have never used a service to say a service was too expensive.

The service that was discontinued was ADA-compliant buses for frail, elderly and disabled residents of this community.

They say there are other services available, but that is not accurate. These buses had ramps for the passengers to enter and exit the bus. Passengers did not have to walk up and down steps. The transportation manager found buses that met the specific needs of our community. These buses did not operate every day.

Our community lost a very much needed amenity provided by monthly assessments. This amenity was not a sport or a leisure activity or a pleasant place to meet for social activities. It was much needed by some members of the community.

Too expensive? At $50-60,000 a year it would have raised the monthly assessment less than 55 cents per dwelling unit.

Once the management company takes away an amenity, it opens the door to other amenities being taken away that are paid out of the same monthly assessments.

Can’t we all get along and use the amenities we need or want that make us happy? It’s a shared money pot so all residents can pick and choose which amenities suit them.

Take new challenging path

by Jim Greer
LW Interfaith Council

In his poem, “The Road Not Taken,” Robert Frost observed that the two roads that diverged in a yellow wood were equally enticing. In this instance, he “took the one less traveled by.” His curiosity to find a unique experience led him down the second path, and “kept the first for another day!”

As seniors, we all have the regret of having asked, couldn’t we have wandered off our familiar path to take a new way “that was grassy and wanted wear?” While there’s much to be said for consistency - it’s less stressful and free of surprises, wouldn’t it be more thrilling to have walked “in leaves no step had trodden black?” Every day those new trails should implore us to tread on unknown ground, rather than wonder whether we “should ever come back.”

In her book, “Neuroscience for Leadership,” Tara Swart explains that our brain is “inherently lazy” and will always “choose the most energy efficient path” if we let it. While we’ll never learn and change as quickly and efficiently as we once did, we don’t have to be stuck with our thought patterns from childhood.

Dr. Swart and MIT fellow Dr. Deborah Ancona revealed three paths to keep the brain agile in a class for senior management and business executives.

The first path is Focused Attention - hone in on parts of the brain that you use less frequently and engage in an effort, like learning a new language or a musical instrument, so challenging that you’ll feel mentally and physically exhausted after practicing. This mental exertion forces your brain to work in ways to which it is unaccustomed, enabling your mind to grow new neurons strong enough to connect with existing neurons, forming new pathways.

The second path is Deliberate Repetition and Practice - only through repetition and practice can those neuron connections be established well enough to become habitual or default behaviors. And if we are to learn a new language or a musical instrument, we can only measure our growth by continually setting goals to measure that growth and achievement. During this time, motivation, willpower, and self-control are critical.

The third path is The Right Environment - to have the energy to keep your brain flexible and “plastic,” you need to be in good physical health, primarily because your brain absorbs massive amounts of

Discover the facts around dementia

Dementia is a challenging and easily misunderstood topic. Without the right information, it can be even more difficult to help someone with the disease.

The Health Care Center is holding a workshop on the facts and fictions of dementia. Ben Allen from Alzheimer's Orange County will discuss the fundamentals of the disease. He'll also go over common misconceptions.

"There's a lot of information out there, but some of it isn't always accurate," Ben said. "If we want to support those affected by dementia, we need to start with understanding the basics of the disease."

"Knowing what is fact and what is fiction can help," Ben added. "And knowing where to find the right resources makes an even bigger difference. This workshop is all about discovering many of the truths around dementia."

Refreshments will be provided by Sunrise of Seal Beach. Following the workshop will

The Seal Beach Naval Weapons Station Wharf

SEAL BEACH NWS

Ammunition Pier Project is proceeding on schedule

The U.S. Navy has prepared a Final Environmental Assessment (EA) for the proposed Naval Weapons Station Seal Beach Ammunition Pier and Turning Basin project. The Final EA includes the Navy's evaluation of the potential environmental impacts of constructing a replacement ammunition pier, associated waterfront facilities, causeway, truck turnaround, and a new public navigation channel at Naval Weapons Station Seal Beach in Seal Beach, California.

The Navy has determined that the project would have no significant impacts on the quality of the human, natural or cultural environment, or generate significant controversy. As a result, an Environmental Impact Statement will not be prepared.

The finding is based on data collected in the EA, which was coordinated with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Marine Fisheries Service, State Historic Preservation Office, California Coastal Commission (for coastal consistency determination), U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Regional Water Quality Control Board and South Coast Air Quality Management District.

Proposed Action

The Navy proposes to construct a 1,100-foot by 125-foot replacement ammunition pier, associated waterfront facilities, causeway, truck turnaround, and public navigation channel. The project would include dredging for the proposed pier and ship turning basin, as well as for a new public navigation channel that would separate Navy ships from civilian boats traveling to and from Huntington Harbour.

Document Availability

The Final EA and Finding of No Significant Impact documents are available on the project website at <https://SealBeachEA.com> and at the following public libraries:

- Seal Beach/Mary Wilson Library
- Bay Shore Neighborhood Library
- Los Alamitos-Rossmoor Library
- Westminster Branch Library

Naval Weapons Station Seal Beach is the primary munitions installation for the Navy's Pacific Fleet surface ships. The base has an outstanding record of safety throughout its more than 70 years in operation and is a vital national asset. Its primary role is to store and maintain Navy and Marine Corps munitions and load and unload Navy ships and larger Coast Guard vessels with the munitions they need to conduct their missions.

It can get discouraging when you hit a plateau and no matter how hard you seem to try, the scale won't move. It's also frustrating when you think you're doing well, and the scale keeps going up. One member shared how she got to the point where she told herself, I don't care anymore, I'll eat what I want and just buy bigger muumuus. Then she decided, no, it's not healthy!

We all struggle, and most of the time we're hardest on ourselves. We're not where we used to be and coming to this class where others know and encourage you makes all the difference. Having to come in after a big gain is one of the hardest things to do. Too many times shame will keep people away. And that's when you really need the support, so no matter what, every day is a new day. We fall, we get back up and we help each other along the journey.

Wa-Rite is a support group for women who need to lose 10 pounds or more.

Members meet on Fridays in Clubhouse 3, Room 1, from 9-10 a.m. Weigh-ins are from 7:45-8:45 a.m.

have been decorated with a centerpiece, placemats, napkins and plastic cutlery to assign each a number. Then through a random drawing of tokens, he announces which table may begin to go through the service line.

The flow of the evening is continuous, but time passes quickly as the dining room is alive with conversation and good company. Folks come from far and near—Westminster, Long Beach, Rossmoor, Artesia, Cypress, Seal Beach and Sunset to name some. I've even encountered some members of the Good Shepherd Congregation.

First is The Open Table's signature salad: chopped lettuces, sliced olives, garbanzo beans, black beans, kidney beans, grated carrots, grated red cabbage, sliced cherry tomatoes, a bit of onion, and a "secret recipe" dressing. It's delicious.

Then comes the entrée—always a surprise—based upon what protein the six volunteer cooks can get at a great price; it's also based on what they feel like cooking from one week to the next, but it is a long time before the entree is repeated.

On separate occasions, I have enjoyed breaded pork chops served with apple sauce and a crab apple slice, spaghetti with a generous meatball, shepherd's pie, penne pasta with chicken and a delightful marinara red sauce, lasagna with fresh grated Romano cheese and beef tips in a special gravy. The meal preparation is always made with love and feels like you've just gone home. It's the way "mom" made it.

And mom would never let you forget your vegetables. Most often the vegetable complement is fresh produce: broccoli, carrots, corn, green beans, peas and once we had asparagus. Then of course is the "staff of life," home-made bread, freshly sliced and buttered, with real butter—no margarine or other butter wannabes. You get the real deal here. Deserts too can be very special, from slices of cake and wedges of fresh pie to ice cream sandwiches or peach cobbler. Beverages include coffee, both regular and decaf, tea, lemonade, and water.

Leftovers are not thrown away but taken that evening to one of two shelters: Precious Life or CASA Youth Home.

The Open Table is not the only senior outreach of Good Shepherd, they also offer a Senior Adult Singles Game Night, which features card and board games on the first Friday of the month—the next dates July 5 and Aug. 2—in the Fireside Room at the church from 6:30-9 p.m.

On Sunday, July 14, the church will sponsor a concert tour of the Disney Concert Hall with a talk with Maestro Victor Vener with excerpts from "Les Miserables" and other works.

All Leisure World residents who enjoy entertaining, dancing and getting acquainted with other fun loving residents are invited to the bi-monthly show/dance events.

“We love entertaining and providing a party atmosphere for residents to enjoy,” says club president Frank Destra.

Residents who attended the Woodstock festival and want to share a brief story of their experience should contact Martha or Frank Destra at 225-0037.

There is no admission. The club provides ice, cups, water and snacks. All are welcome to bring beverages and snacks of their own choice. Hippie dress is optional but encouraged.

Resident performers have chosen songs that reflect the Woodstock themes of peace, love and freedom. New members

GRF Movie

“Serena,” rated R, will be shown at 2 p.m. on Sunday, July 14, in Clubhouse 4.

In 1929, just as the Depression has hit, love-struck newlyweds George and Serena Pemberton move from Boston to North Carolina to build a timber empire.

Serena soon proves herself to be equal to any man: overseeing loggers, hunting rattlesnakes, even saving a man's life in the wilderness. With power and influence now in their hands, the Pembertons refuse to let anyone stand in the way of their inflated love and ambitions.

However, once Serena discovers George's hidden past and faces an unchangeable fate of her own, the Pembertons' passionate marriage begins to unravel.

GRF Weekly Dance

The Golden Rain Foundation sponsors a weekly dance on Saturdays from 7-10 p.m. in Clubhouse 1.

The Robin Fellows Group will play 1940s-60s ballroom and pop on July 13.

The Recreation Department asks residents and their guests attending the GRF Saturday Dances in Clubhouse 1 to cooperate in adhering to a few, simple rules:

- Do not park on the east side of Clubhouse 1. Parking for the clubhouse is across Golden Rain Road at the golf course or on Burning Tree Lane.
- People must be out of the clubhouse no later than 10 p.m. to permit adequate time for the custodian to set up for the next group.
- No announcements are permitted from the stage, except by the bands.
- Clubhouse lighting and audiovisual equipment can only be adjusted by the custodian according to the instructions they have been given
- Be sure to sign in, either as a resident or guest. This is the only way GRF can judge the popularity of bands.
- Guests must be accompanied by the GRF member who invites them as all passes and ID's are subject to inspection.

Bula Brothers and Taco Tuesday

The Bula Brothers—Mark, Frank, Don and Craig—perform live from 5-7 p.m. on Tuesdays through October for Taco Tuesday. All are welcome to come and join the band on the patio outside Clubhouse 6 (next to Koffel's taco truck) on Tuesday evenings for food, fun and music.

LW LIBRARY

Chess sets, tables are now available

The Leisure World Library has two new chess tables on the patio, where Leisure World residents can play any time during the week.

People can check out chess sets from the library; GRF ID cards are required.

Residents can take a set home, and keep it for days or play on the patio. When they finish playing, just return the set to the library.

The Chess Club has a roster of players at its meeting on Fridays from 2-6 p.m. at Clubhouse 3, Room 7.

They can answer questions and offer help.

Beginners are welcome for a free lesson.

LW in Bloom

LW Poetry

This poetry feature showcase original poems by members of the Creative Writers Club of Leisure World and other GRF members. The Rainbow

After the rain by God's grand plan
The sun's rays have a magical hand.
They paint a rainbow across the sky.
A living arch of color that flies high
I watch with wonder and whisper good-bye as it fades away, God's rainbow in the sky.

COMMUNITY KARAOKE

Patriotic songs dominated last week

Anna Le gave it her all singing “The Star Spangled Banner” to the standing Community Karaoke audience at last week's party. Other patriotic songs were sung by Ellen Brannigan, Culley Eaby, Ren Villaneauva and Bob Barnum. It was a red-white and blue night but we enjoyed lots of other styles of music along with delicious ice cream bars. Ann Martin and Rick Hering blended their voices to sing “Could I Have This Dance.” Shannon Harrison sang “Stairway to Heaven,” and Pete Tupas beamed with “When You're Smiling.” Other good karaoke singing came from Richard Yokomi, Audrey McKenzie, Mila Cruz, Ric Dizon, Janice Chapman, Tony Tupas, Mike Breen, Essie Hicks, Helen Schultz, Barbie May, Wayne Urban, Tommy Williams, Vito Villamor, Alanna Eaby, Susan Kellerhan, Donna Burr, Ruby Johnson, Byong Choi, Tino Tupas and Bobby Groncki. Karaoke parties are each Wednesday starting at 5:30 p.m. in Clubhouse 1. Practice sessions are Tuesday in Clubhouse 6 from 1-3 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Ballet instructor Mel Lockett is passionate about ballet and loves to teach. Here Anne Howard (l-r), a six-year LWer, enjoys weekly ballet without any previous dance experience. Marleen Morris has lived here for only two months. The last time she took ballet was when she was 12. Unlike most in class, Rosemarie Fenell started dancing when she was 10. The graceful dancer is now an octogenarian and is the most seasoned.

Ballet Fitness Club

Many here appreciate the 'leisure' in Leisure World. In order to afford this lifestyle, achieving well-being and better health is important through exercise. There is a long list of excellent workout classes available. LW Ballet Fitness is among them. It is offered every Saturday at 1:30 p.m. for an hour or so, upstairs in Clubhouse 6.

Ballet originated during the Italian Renaissance in the fifteenth century. Later, it developed into a concert-dance-form in France and Russia. It may be intimidating because it looks difficult, not so. Having good instruction is key. Teacher Milton 'Mel' Lockett is a veteran dancer who can help anyone "get it right" right from the start.

For his dancers, elegance begins immediately once their hands touch the barre, and the practice music begins. This workout is a series of bending and stretching in the form of ballet movements—a marvelous way to improve one's posture, balance and gain graceful movements. Dancers simply learn to pay attention to their arms, wrists

SUNSHINE CLUB

Financial mistakes will be topic

Brenda Soto Bryan from Allstate Insurance returns to Leisure World as a guest speaker at the Sunshine Club tomorrow, July 12, at 10 a.m. in Clubhouse 3, Room 2.

Her topic will be “The Second Biggest Financial Mistake Most People Make.” She will share ideas on how to avoid it.

Her last presentation to the Sunshine Club was titled “The Two Biggest Financial Mistakes That Most People Make and How To Avoid Them.” It was centered around Risk No. 1, failure to protect against every day risk.

Brenda has just under four decades of risk management experience with Allstate Insurance Company and is the owner of the Brenda Soto Bryan Insurance agency, which is ranked in the top 10 of all Allstate agencies nationwide and has achieved many company honors over the past 39 years. She is highly recognized and sought after by Allstate as a leader in California. As a result of her unique perspective on risk management and asset protection, she is consistently called upon to represent her company and peers as a “trusted advisor” in her field.

Brenda has developed a team of college educated insurance and financial professionals, who as advisors, strive to educate clients, recommending the most effective way to protect their assets, and everything they’ve worked so hard for.

Brenda is a member of the National Association of Insurance

Brenda Soto Bryan

Club meets on Fridays, in Clubhouse 3, Room 2 (except the first Friday in Room 9), from 10 a.m.-noon. All shareholders are welcome to attend, no membership is required.

CaptionCall representative is guest at Nikkei Club

The Nikkei Club will meet at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 13, in a new location, Clubhouse 3, Room 1. This large room will accommodate up to 85 persons, and has a kitchen area. It is the first unit on the right side of the west entrance to Clubhouse 3.

Bento lunch, $9, will be pre-ordered for those who call a member of the telephone committee, Kazuko Monobe, 280-4916; Margie Kido, 544-4463; or Alberta Karch, 296-5567.

The guest speaker will be Lisa Kaufman from CaptionCall. She will give a talk about the company’s telephone and explain how members can qualify to receive the phone and installation free.

She will be accompanied by an audiologist.

As seniors age, hearing and other senses diminish. If you cannot distinguish words correctly and can only guess what is being said, especially over the telephone, there may be a solution. It’s called the captioned telephone, which is like having new ears, along with having a secretary to write down the conversation. Not only can the sound be amplified, but you won’t miss any of the words, because the phone will display the conversation in big bold text on a large screen that you can read and verify later if you want. Even if you wear hearing aids, you can hear better with CaptionCall phone. It can also make it easier to recall conversations. The phone works like a regular phone, but with many other features.

CaptionCall is a federally funded ADA program designed to help individuals with hearing loss communicate better. To verify that you have a hearing loss, a simple Professional Certification Form will be available to qualify you for a no-cost CaptionCall phone.

For more information go online to www.CaptionCall.com or call (877) 557-2227.

Talk to your hearing care provider about eligibility for CaptionCall. To qualify you need:

- Certification of hearing loss
- A standard home phone line
- An Internet connection

Those who qualify can receive the CaptionCall phone and service at no cost.

GRF RECREATION

Pageant of Masters’ bus is full; waiting list is being compiled

The GRF Recreation Department trip to an evening performance of the 2019 Pageant of the Masters on Wednesday, Aug. 14, is completely sold out, however a waiting list is being taken and if enough interest is shown, a second bus will be added, so contact the events coordinator as soon as possible to be added to the list.

The 2019 Pageant of the Masters, “The Time Machine,” will take audiences around the globe and into the past, present and future in search of great art and amazing stories. Taking its cues from science fiction and steam punk fantasies, “The Time Machine” will be a ticket to thrills, laughter, beautiful music and extraordinary living art under the stars.

Seating will be in the main tier, which offers an ideal perspective for the performance. Although it might be sunny and warm dur-

Son sworn in as CalSTA Secretary

David S. Kim, son of Grace Kim, Mutual 14, became the third Secretary of the California State Transportation Agency (CalSTA) during a swearing in ceremony on July 2 in the Governor’s press room at the State Capital.

The ceremony was conducted by Gov. Gavin Newsom’s Cabinet Secretary Ana J. Matosantos. David’s wife, Julie, held the family Bible that was passed down from his grandfather to his father and now to him. The leather bound Bible is in Korean and English.

David is the first Korean-American to hold the position of secretary in the U.S.

He was born and raised in nearby Davis, California, and several of his high school teachers and friends attended the ceremony along with the associate pastor from the Davis Presbyterian Church and two psychiatrists from UC Davis Medical Center.

CalSTA manages California’s roads, trains and water transportation systems.

David will oversee 40,000 employees working for the Board of Pilot Commissioners, the California Highway Patrol (CHP), the California Transportation Commission, Department of Transportation (Caltrans), the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV), the High-Speed Rail Authority, the Office of Traffic Safety and the New Motor Vehicle Board.

David is a longtime transportation leader with experience in the private sector as well as all three levels of government. David spent nearly eight years in senior level roles at the U.S. Department of Transportation. He served as Deputy Administrator of the Federal Highway Administration tion (FHWA), the number two position in the agency. Additionally, he was FHWA’s Associate Administrator for Policy and Governmental Affairs and before that, spent two years as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Governmental Affairs in the Office of the Secretary of Transportation.

David earned a B.A. in political science from Occidental College and a master’s of public administration from the University of Southern California.

"The evidence that all is not well with California's election process became clear in the early days of this century," she said.

She states that voting in every election is the greatest privilege that American citizens have.

"But if our election process is subverted by error, apathy, carelessness and fraud," she said, "then we are robbed of the significance and purpose of the privilege of voting."

Ruth is currently serving as EIPCa's vice president, director of Legislative Oversight, and director of the Southern Region of California.

CRIBBAGE CLUB

Tied scores were trend of play

July 2 proved that the Cribbage Club is very competitive as there were several tied scores. Ruth Bonnema and Pat Fellers tied for first with a score of 839. Dolores Cook was on her own at 835. Peggy McKendrick, Alice Buckle and Pat Swope tied at 834. Pat Blum and Liz Meripol tied at 831. Pauline Fitzsimons had six games of 121. Unfortunately Jack Hawn had no wins today. There were 59 players.

The club had an early celebration for the Fourth of July. The club provided a cook-out of hot dogs and hamburgers with all the trimmings. Members also added side dishes. Irvine Bernstein and Bobbie Straley celebrated a birthday and provided ice cream sundaes for all. Special thanks to Margaret and Gene Smith for all their efforts to make this a wonderful celebration.

The Cribbage Club meets on Tuesdays at noon in Clubhouse 1. There is always room for more players. Lessons are available by calling Patti Smith at 242-4674. She will make arrangements for lessons for beginners or those who need a brush up. Partners are not required and play is finished by 3:30 p.m. Come and join and have fun. Players, arrive by noon to be assured of a table.

Beach volleyball returns to California

Pro beach volleyball returns to Southern California July 26-28 when the AVP tour returns to the Hermosa Beach Pier, 1-Pier Ave.

AVP athletes are fighting for one of the two spots allotted for United States men and women for the Tokyo 2020 Olympiad.

The tour began in Huntington Beach May 3-5 and will conclude its California run on Aug. 16-18 at Hermosa Beach's neighbor, Manhattan Beach.

The Olympic qualifying cycle began September 2018 and ends on June 14, 2020. Teams earn points based on their finishes on the AVP World Tour.

The simplest way to qualify for the Olympic team is to finish the qualification cycle ranked among the top 16 teams in the world. Or win the FIVB World Championships in Hamburg, Germany for an automatic bid.

Currently, for the women, April Ross and Alix Klineman, are ranked fifth in the world followed by Sara Hughes and Summer Ross in eighth place for the United States.

Sara is the great-granddaughter of former LWer Minnie Arnold.

Leading the American men are Jake Gibb and Taylor Crabb, who are ranked 14th in the world, followed by Phil Dalhausser and Nick Lucena, who reached Rio, who are 18th.

Hermosa Beach is a cornerstone of the AVP tour schedule. Passionate Hermosa beach volleyball fans arrive early and leave late to cheer on their favorites all tournament long, creating one of the most energetic beach volleyball environments in the world.

Every year at the Manhattan Beach Open, nearly 200 teams put it all on the line to become one of the four athletes to cement their name in beach volleyball history. The AVP Gold Series—Manhattan Beach Open is recognized as the Super Bowl of beach volleyball—big stage, big money and a big reward as AVP stars fight for the chance to enshrine their name on the Manhattan Beach Pier.

Watch all of the AVP action each day on Amazon Prime Video, where three courts are livestreamed with on-court interviews, commentary and analysis from Kevin Barnett, Camryn Irwin and Dain Blanton, and exclusive athlete segments.

The Hermosa Beach finals will air on NBCSN on Sunday, July 28, at 5PT. The Manhattan Beach Open finals will air on Sunday, Aug. 18 at 8 p.m. policies and technological innovation.

“The Cunard Story” will showcase the company’s legacy through artifacts, photographs and film, and will also feature an “immigration salon” that allows visitors to digitally explore ancestry databases.

Through the offerings, visitors can experience ancestor arrival dates and specific ships that carried them, allowing for a deeply personal experience.

The Queen Mary alone transported thousands of passengers during her Cunard service; and approximately one in five immigrants sailed to the U.S. on a Cunard ship at the height of the immigration period during the latter part of the 19th century and early 20th century.

“Water Changes Everything”

Solution to this week’s puzzle: Rd3

The white Rook moves from g3 to d3. Any answer by black, the white’s next move is check mate.

opens Friday, July 19, at the Long Beach Historical Society.

“Water Changes Everything” serves as a living reminder of the value of one of the city’s most precious resources and tidelands resources in the city’s historical development.

Long Beach rests in the flood plain of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers.

For years the two rivers meandered across land now populated with residential neighborhoods and commercial areas.

The new exhibit explores how humans attempted to harness local rivers, utilize the ocean front and find enough fresh water to develop a city.

Viewing hours will be Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 1-5 p.m.; Thursdays, 1-7 p.m. and Saturdays, 11 a.m.- 5 p.m.

The gallery is located at 4260 Atlantic Ave., Long Beach, 90807. The Long Beach Historical Society has served the city for over 50 years, collecting and preserving its rich history for current and future generations. All are invited to visit the gallery in the city’s Bixby Knolls neighborhood.

• There is only one valid solution to each Sudoku puzzle. The only way the puzzle can be considered solved correctly is when all 81 boxes contain numbers and the other Sudoku rules have been followed.
• When you start a game of Sudoku, some blocks will be pre-filled for you. You cannot change these numbers in the course of the game.
• Each column must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same column of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
• Each row must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same row of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
• Each block must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same block of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
