Happy Mother's Day

GRF SECURITY REQUEST

Call in Mother's Day guests in advance

Mother's Day is Sunday, May 9, and it is the busiest visitor day of the year at the Main Gate. In the past, hundreds of residents have called Security at the same time—right before lunch—on Mother's Day. The heavy call volume has slowed down gate entry.

This year, Security encourages residents to call in their guests early, even as early as today.

To help expedite service, people can call the Security Main Gate at any time starting today, May 6. Let Security know the names of guests entering the community, and they will be added to the board by Sunday.

Residents who choose to wait until Mother's Day to call in guests may experience delays.

Security may be reached 24 hours a day at (562) 594-4754.

Man loses $140,000 in a lottery scam

A Seal Beach resident was defrauded out of approximately $140,000 after falling victim to a winning lottery scam, according to a Seal Beach police report.

On April 23, the Seal Beach Police Department responded to the call of theft by false pretenses.

The elderly victim, who did not live in Leisure World, told investigating officers that in August 2020, he received a letter postmarked from Portugal informing him that he had won the lottery in Spain. The letter contained logos and images similar to the graphics used by the California Lottery.

In order for the victim to claim his "winnings," the victim would have to pay "upfront tax money."

The victim initially sent money to the suspect via the United States Postal Service. However, the suspects continued to demand additional payments from the victim to secure the lottery winnings. Over the next several months, the victim sent cashier's checks to multiple individuals both in the United States and in Portugal.

After sending approximately $140,000 and not receiving any money in return, the victim discovered that he had been the victim of a scam.

The Seal Beach Police Department is currently investigating this incident and is working with the FBI and international officials in an attempt to identify the persons responsible for this scam.

"It is terribly sad that people will target the elderly in order to defraud them out of their savings," said Seal Beach Chief of Police Philip L. Gonshak. "What makes matters worse is that because these suspects are located internation

These presidential quotes about motherhood sum up the eternal love and connection that exist between mothers and children.

"My mother was the most beautiful woman I ever saw. All I am I owe to my mother. I attribute my success in life to the moral, intellectual and physical education I received from her."

erhaps Abraham Lincoln said it best: "All that I am or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother." Mother's Day is Sunday, May 9. As the holiday approaches, the LW Weekly wants to take a moment to pay homage to motherhood and celebrate every selfless act that moms do daily for their families. Whether you are remembering a mama long gone or savoring a bygone season of mothering, we salute all mothers and mother figures today.

I remember Mother—We Were Not Allowed to Call Her Anything Else

My mother Lois Olive Warren (Pettit) Cowan, was an extraordinary woman. She was always the lady, and we were taught be the same.

She was always well-dressed, fashionable and well-coiffured. In fact, she was a hair dresser for most of her working life. Mother would make sure we were dressed appropriately for school, with our hair in place.

We lived on a farm with my step-father. She cooked for threshers, hunted eggs, worked the garden, and washed and ironed all our clothes, so they would be immaculate. And she would do all this, and still be very well-groomed.

Years later, she moved to Lancaster, California, to be near me when my first daughter was born.

Some residents here might even remember her living in Leisure World. Before that she was living alone in Lancaster, which is about two hours away. In 1995, she had some medical issues. My husband and I thought it best for her to be nearer to us. We found an apartment a few buildings away and purchased it for her.

She lived there from 1995 until her death in 2006. She loved getting on the bus and going up to the market, where there were a few tables for the coffee spot.

Mother was a flirt and loved chatting with the men who also gathered there. She loved it here and went everywhere in her scooter, especially the shopping center. And yes, she would still tell me if she didn't think I was dressed right.

Cindy Gannon, Mutual 4 My Mother was the Light of My Life.

Geraldine Africa was the light of my life. She taught my brother David and me right from wrong. Growing up in the 1930s, lean times prevailed, but Mom always had food on the table. I wish Mother were here to tuck me in bed at night.

Good night, Mommy; see you soon.

Linda Allen, Mutual 4 My Sweet Mother

To my sweet mother, Polly Donley (Mutual 14): Thanks for teaching me to be my own unique self. You surrounded me with bright possibilities and gave me wings to fly. Happy Mother's Day.

Daughters Barbara Smith, Beverly Morang and Susan Pullen Our Mom is a Treasure

Our mom, Margaret Smith of Mutual 9, always had her daughters' best interests at heart. She is always the first to help her neighbors. She loves cooking brownies, banana muffins and cookies, and she delivers them to lots of friends in Leisure World.

We are so happy we get to spend quality time with mom and dad. My twin and I treasure each day we are with them. Happy Mother's Day, Mom! We love you.

WATER CONSERVATION

Dry April is reason to conserve water, which saves energy, too

Much of the western United States has endured a record-dry April. In many areas, there was not a drop of rain, according to the National Weather Service. More than half of major climate stations in the West have set or tied records for the least amount of precipitation ever observed in April, and high temperatures have sapped the ground of what little moisture remains.

This has heightened concerns about what forecasters are predicting could be a severe fire season, as fuel moistures are what they typically are in June, according to the National Weather Service

Los Angeles/Orange County are running an 8-inch deficit over the last year.

As dry conditions persist, the State Water Control Board has alerted 40,000 water rights holders that they need to start planning for potential water shortages. One of the biggest reservoirs in the California water project system, Lake Oroville, is only at 53 percent of average. The biggest reservoir in the state, Lake Shasta, is run by the Federal Bureau of Reclamation and is only at 66 percent of average.

With less water available through more cost-effective federal and state supplies, water customers like farms and cities may be more reliant on groundwater and water for sale on the open market, which may be more expensive if it's available.

Water conservation efforts

will likely be requested for all customers if drought persists.

Such measures can yield energy savings in addition to saving water, according to a March 4 story in the LA Times called "Want to save energy and fight climate change? Try using less water," by Sammy Roth. An estimated one-fifth of electricity use in California goes to transporting, treating and heating water. And nearly one-third of non-power-plant natural gas use is water-related, primarily water heating.

A new study from UC Davis, published in the journal Environmental Research Letters, found that paying for water conservation can actually be a more cost-effective way to slash energy consumption than paying for energy conservation.

LW pets must be registered and are subject to GRF, Mutual rules

emergency/safety coordinator

The earliest probable domesticated dog remains found in America are approximately 8,700 to 14,000 years old. Other sources claim the earliest evidence for dogs in the Americas can be found in Danger Cave, Utah, between 9,000 and 10,000 years ago.

While not all agree on the exact year dogs were domesticated, everyone can agree that dogs have become humans' best friends.

Pets have become part of our lives and families.

They guard our homes, protect their owners, are used to detect illnesses, guide the blind and give emotional support, among many other things.

But owning pets is a huge responsibility.

Under GRF Pet Policy 50-1023-1, resident pet owners are required to:

- Register pets at the GRF Stock Transfer Office. Pet registrations are renewed annually in December-January.
  - Walk pets responsibly on a 6-foot leash to keep them safe.

- Use plastic bags or a poop scooper to pick up after their pets
- Control their dogs' barking and odor.
- Never ever leave their pets unattended outdoors.

In addition to the GRF Pet Policy, each Mutual has its own pet policies, so residents should check with their Mutual directors for more information.

Also, the City of Seal Beach has a pet ordinance, found under Title 7, Chapter 7.05.005-.125, that reinforces both the GRF and Mutual policies. For more information on that, visit www. sealbeachca.gov.

Pet owners must familiarize and abide by all applicable policies and ordinances as well as use common sense to keep themselves, their pets and fellow pedestrians safe.

- Shorten your dog's leash while near pedestrians.
- Be considerate; control your dog's activities and barking indoors and outdoors.
- Provide a clean environment for your pet.
- Don't walk your dog over hot surfaces.
- Create an emergency preparedness kit for your dog.
- Never leave pets unattended in vehicles.

For safety reasons, the GRF or your Mutual may ask you to surrender your pet if:

- Your dog becomes aggressive toward people.
- Your dog's weight is more that you can handle.
- You can not care for your pet or vourself.
- You do not follow GRF, Mutual or city ordinances.

Residents are asked to report unattended pets or irresponsible pet owners to Seal Beach Police via the non-emergency number at (562) 799-4100 and Animal Control-Long Beach Animal Care Services at (562) 570-7387.

Letters to the Editor

Only in Leisure World—on Saturday, April 24, at 10:30 a.m., the toilet overflows, and there is wall-to-wall water! I placed a call to Leisure World Security. Ten minutes later, Service Maintenance Plumber Jesus R. Gonzalez was at the door (mind you, I had just attended a virtual Mass). I'm in complete awe. Jesus heads for the bathroom, gets rid of the floor water, mops, sanitizes, fixes the problem and tells me to have a good day—these words after he has already had two other toilet overflows earlier in the morning. What a guy!

This GRF employee was truly a gift to me. Where else but in Leisure World would our cares and needs be addressed so quickly and with such grace? Thank you, Jesus! Well done! You are my hero.

This is to acknowledge the receptiveness of the Golden Rain Foundation Board and the Architectural Review Committee that have re-installed the donated sculpture of a couple sitting on a bench outside the Library.

Kudos to Susan Hopewell and Linda Stone and the executive board members, as well as Irma Heinrich, chair of the Architectural Design committee, for their thoughtful action to relocate this statuary to a more sheltering and appropriate placement here in Leisure World.

We also hope that when decorative donations are made in the future, there can either be community input or more than just one Board reviewing the installation options.

COVID Chronicles—Dental Daydreams

by Joan Rose

LW contributor

Recently, I went to my dental hygienist to have my teeth cleaned. This is not something new to me because I have been going to her (or someone like her) every six months for...oh, like forever. I am very diligent when it comes to dental upkeep because I floss and brush after every meal. If this sounds like overkill, I am happy to report that at the ancient age of 83, my choppers are still in pretty good shape. It pays to be good to your teeth.

Due to the COVID pandemic, I had skipped my last cleaning, and I found that dental office protocol this year was a little different. When I entered the dentist's office, there were no patients in the waiting room. Before I could even sit down, however, I had to stop at a desk where the masked attendant asked me to fill out a form and she took my temperature.

Through my mask, I mentioned to her that I had received both my COVID-19 vaccines, but this fact didn't seem to make her feel any different about the form that I had to fill out. So I dutifully checked all the correct boxes and gave it back to her, whereupon she took it and fled to the glassed-in protection of the inner office.

Presently, my dental hygienist came out, double masked and gloved, and motioned for me to come into her inner sanctum. She motioned for me to sit down, and as I took off my mask and settled back in the dental chair, she lowered the chair and placed a tiny bib around my neck. As she turned on a blinding overhead light, I quickly shut my eyes, opened my mouth and prepared myself for the scraping of my teeth by her sharp, wicked little instruments.

As I sat there, feeling every little poke and scrape, I tried to get my mind off what she was doing by thinking about what dental hygienist school must be like. What does it take to be a dentist or a dental hygienist? First, I'm sure that you would have to be certain that you would not be squeamish at the thought of putting your hands in other people's mouths, bleeding gums or causing a little pain to someone.

As I continued to daydream, I imagined that the class for dental hygienists would be held in a mock-up of a dentist's office. There would be a dental chair and the dental tray with several stainless steel instruments laid out, all of which looked like miniature ice picks—shiny and sharp.

Mr. Ferguson was the wise, graying teacher, and I imagined that he would stand in front of a group of students, hold one of the ice picks up and say, "Now, class, this particular pick is for doing really deep work when the tooth has thick layers of tartar that you must scrape off. Don't be afraid of going underneath the gum surrounding the tooth and really work at it. Remember that tartar on teeth

CDC revises recommendations for the vaccinated

by Patty Marsters pattym@lwsb.com

On April 27, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) released updated guiding principles for fully vaccinated people. Someone who is considered fully vaccinated is at least two weeks past receiving the second dose of the Pfizer-BioNTech or Moderna vaccine, or two weeks past receiving the single-dose Johnson and Johnson/Janssen vaccine.

Among the new recommendations is that fully vaccinated people no longer need to wear a mask outdoors, except in certain crowded settings and venues. They can continue to visit with other fully vaccinated people indoors without wearing masks or physical distancing, as well as visit with unvaccinated people (including children) from a single household who are at low risk for severe COVID-19 indoors without those same precautions.

However, fully vaccinated people should still take precautions while in indoor public settings such as grocery stores or restaurants. In these situations, they should wear well-fitted masks made with at least three layers. This is also true when visiting indoors with unvaccinated people who are at increased risk or who have an unvaccinated household member who is at risk for severe COVID-19 disease, as well as when visiting indoors with unvaccinated people from multiple households. In general, the CDC continues to advise people to avoid any indoor, large, in-person gatherings.

Immunocompromised people, even those who are fully vaccinated, should consult their health care providers before implementing the new recommendations into their routines.

For additional guidelines, visit www.cdc.gov.

Update your medical records

by Patty Marsters

pattym@lwsb.com

Unless you got vaccinated against COVID-19 in your primary care doctor's office, under his or her direction, your official medical records may not be up-to-date.

To update your records, which are kept by your doctor's office, you need to share a copy of your COVID-19 vaccination card with your doctor's office. You can send a copy via post, scan or take a photo to send via email, or just bring your vaccinination card to your next appointment. Whichever method you choose, you should alert your doctor's office first so administrators know you'll be adding details of your COVID-19 vaccine to your medical record.

If you had any kind of adverse reaction to the vaccine, you should also inform your primary care physician. Be sure to list symptoms, even if they were only mild, and duration.

Why do this? If a booster to the COVID-19 vaccine is needed in the future, which is likely, your doctor's office will know to alert you. In some cases, the office may be able to administer the right dose to you. Also, if you change health providers in the future, when your medical records travel to the new provider, your complete information will be included.

First Christian Church

First Christian Church of Leisure World teaches from God's word, the Holy Bible, most often verse by verse. It is a friendly church that welcomes all visitors.

Message of the Week

Pastor Bruce Humes returns to the study in 1 Peter. The apostle Peter wrote this letter to those Christians who were suffering because of their faith in Christ. Peter calls them "pilgrims of the dispersion" because they were forced from their homeland due to persecution. The purpose of the apostle's letter was to teach them, even in times of suffering, to live a victorious life with hope, without becoming angry or bitter, and to continue trusting in the Lord while looking for his return.

Scripture of the Week

"This I recall to mind; therefore, I have hope. The Lord's loving kindnesses indeed never cease, for his compassions never fail. They are new every morning: Great is Your faithfulness" (Lamentations 3:21-23, NASB, Scripture submitted by Melli Herrara).

Services

Saturday and Sunday services have the same message. Sunday is a traditional service, with hymnal music provided by Pat Kogok at the piano. This week, Janet Ray will sing for the congregation. Sunday service times are from 9:30-10:45 a.m. (note that this is a different service time than before the pandemic).

Betty was also a reporter for the Leisure World News, reporting on Arts and Culture events.

FAITH CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY

Celebrate Mother's Day on May 9 with a special service

Mother's Day is Sunday, May 9. To say that mothers are important is an incredible understatement. To say they shape and influence our lives, just doesn't say enough. Abraham Lincoln once said, "I remember my mother's prayers and they have always followed me. They have clung to me all my life." George Washington remarked, "My mother was the most beautiful woman I ever saw. All I am I owe to my mother. I attribute all my success in life to the moral, intellectual and physical education I received from her."

Celebrate this special day with Faith Christian Assembly at the 10:30 a.m. service. Members can invite family and friends to this service that will honor the mothers attending. Pastor Sheri Leming will present a special Mother's Day message. Be advised, there will be no evening service on May 9.

Out of an abundance of caution, all who attend services or events at Faith Christian Assembly will have their temperature taken at the door, be required to wear a mask before and after service, and sit socially distant from others. Those who are ill should remain at home. Midweek Bible study taught by Pastor Sheri Leming is on Wednesdays at 11 a.m., and Grief Share's weekly meetings are Wednesdays at 5:30 p.m.

To receive more information

on the church, call (562) 598-9010, visit the website at www. FCAchurch.net or email contact@ fcachurch.net.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints

by Jim Greer

LW contributor

In his recent April General Conference address, Elder Dieter F. Uchtdorf said, "When we feel insignificant, cast off, and forgotten, we learn that we may be assured that God has not forgotten us—in fact, that he offers to all his children something unimaginable: to become heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ.

"It is so humbling to know that this magnificent and supernal future is possible—not because of who we are but because of who God is."

Belivers should never forget the blessings that await if they remain true and faithful to the covenants they made. The world's threats cannot negate the heavenly father's plan of happiness, which ensures eternal life with him.

Children of the covenant know that all suffering and sorrows will be relieved through Christ's atonement. They share in the savior's promise made to the prophet Joseph Smith in Liberty Jail, "Peace be unto thy soul; thine adversity and thine afflictions shall be but a small moment. And then, if thou endure it well, God shall exalt thee on high."

Be advised that the Sacrament Meeting service is now held on Sundays at 9 a.m. in the Atherton Chapel, or online at http://mywebcast.churchofjesuschrist.org/Events/lbestake, select Atherton Ward.

Lionesses live and travel in community with other lionesses. They hunt, sleep, travel and raise their cubs together. If a young one needs care, correction, feeding or protection, and mother isn't available, another lioness steps in without hesitation to fill the need. Believers are better, stronger, and more effective together. Jesus is the Lion of Judah, and as part of the church, his bride, we are

It doesn't matter if you have never gone through the physical experience of childbirth. You are the aunts, sisters and friends who have come alongside those who needed the nurture, support and prayerful guidance of a mother.

Assembly of God will honor mothers by virtue of giving birth and by virtue of relationship on Mother's Day, May 9, at 11 a.m. in the Amphitheater. Pastor Chuck Franco will preach on the legacy of a godly mother, and every woman attending will receive a special gift. Invite family to join on this special day as Assembly of God celebrates mothers.

Those who have questions about the church or have a prayer need should call the church office at (562) 357-4360, or email pastor Chuck at lwagpastorc@ gmail.com.

LW Baptist

The LW Baptist church family warmly invites LWers to join its 9:30 a.m. worship service on Sunday, May 9, in the Amphitheater. The service's theme will center on Mother's Day and what great things Jesus does for mothers and their children in every generation. The Bible account under consideration is Luke 8:26-39, which shows the life transformations Jesus accomplished for a mother's afflicted son.

The discussion questions for this week are: Why is there such suffering in the world? Why are people unable to find help? Why is death no remedy? Why do some refuse the relief the Bible offers? Why is God's answer to prayers at times no?

Among the selections, pianist Yvonne Leon at the grand will play "What a wonderful change in my life has been wrought," whose writer said, "God has something for me to do in brightening the experience of struggling souls...blessing my fellow men...in the name of God's dear son, whose I am and whom I serve."

inflammation and tooth loss, and we are here to do battle with it. There will be blood, of course, but that is what the water jet and the suction tube is for. Use these tools to suck up the saliva and blood as you are scraping off the tartar." Ferguson noticed that at the mention of blood, several of the students paled a little, inhaled sharply and took a step back.

Then the teacher looked seriously at his class and he warned. " Now don't be afraid to scrape with some force. Tartar is stubborn and may have been building up on these teeth since the Carter administration."

At this point, I imagined that a timid young lady would raise her hand and say,, "But, Mr. Ferguson, won't all that digging under the gums hurt the patient?"

Mr. Ferguson would smile and say, "Of course, my dear, but it will only be an occasional twinge, and the patient will shrug it off. Don't forget, if you really display some diligent, exuberant digging and scraping, the patient will think that you really are thorough and feel lucky that you are doing the job." The class smiled back and nodded.

My daydream was interrupted as I realized that my hygienist had finished her scraping and jabbing torture, and I was very relieved.

Next came the actual cleaning and for this, she used a round, spinning brush and some strange tasting, gritty toothpaste.

She went over each tooth with the brush and paste, pressing down hard. However, I knew that no matter how hard she pressed with the brush, I would still have yellowish, old looking teeth at the end of the procedure —but by God, they would be clean!

Finally, she was almost through, but now came torture by dental floss as she patiently went over and around each and every tooth in my head with unflavored dental floss.

At times, the floss would get stuck in a crevice. My hygienist seemed to get angry at the stubbornness of the floss and she would then yank it out.

I was relieved when she put all her evil tools down on the tray and put my chair back into a sitting position.

She handed me a paper cup full of water and a suction cup

I rinsed my mouth out several times and spit into the suction cup which seemed offended as it took the water away very quickly with a loud gurgle. Then my hygienist took off my bib and at long last, I was done.

"See you next time!" my hygienist said cheerfully through her mask as she helped me to my feet. Then she ushered me out of her torture chamber and handed me my little plastic goody bag, as she did every time I came in. I knew that the bag was filled with boring things such as a tiny container of floss, a miniature tube of toothpaste and a new toothbrush. Secretly, I always feel as if this little plastic bag is given to me as a reward for being such a brave little girl and hardly crying at all through the whole ugly procedure.

Then I stepped up to the counter and paid the bill for this bi-annual attack on my mouth. As the receptionist behind the glassed-in enclosure made my next appointment, I was fervently grateful that I wouldn't have to worry about this ordeal again for another six months.

Helping the climate by saving energy is a win/win and extra incentive for people to carefully use water. In general, Americans use more than 80 gallons of water per day, but there are many ways to conserve water. In small every day ways, individuals can help by:

- Washing dishes by hand.
- Don't leave the water running for rinsing. When washing the dishes by hand, use a minimal quantity of detergent as much as possible.
- Don't defrost frozen foods with running water.
- Don't run the faucet while you clean vegetables. This saves 50-150 gallons every month.

Most Californians use more water outdoors than indoors. In some areas, 50 percent or more of daily water use is for lawns and outdoor landscaping. So, paying attention to landscapes and sprinklers can save water on a larger scale. People and Mutuals can help in a variety of ways.

• Plant drought-resistant landscape as was just done in Mutual 2's green belt area. The low maintenance common area features cacti, succulents and California native, drought-tolerant, flowering plants and an 8-foot, 40-year-old Sego Palm. Nearly 5,000 square feet of turf was removed, which qualified the Mutual for a water-saving rebate from the Municipal Water District of Orange County (MWDOC) for as much as $7,964. In this area alone, LW will save about 83,000-plus gallons of water every year.

•Flooded sidewalks lead to wasteful runoff. SoCal Water$mart- recommends rotating nozzles, which use up to 20 percent less water than a standard sprinkler head by distributing water more slowly and uniformly to the landscape, while preserving plant health. In addition to reducing water use, water directed from these nozzles is less likely to mist, resists misdirection resulting from strong winds, and significantly reduces run-off onto streets and sidewalks with a more directed flow.

SoCal Water$mart resident and commercial rebates are a cost-effective, water-saving option for every landscape. Find more about rebates at socalwatersmart@com.

Key Points

- The U.S. Drought Monitor reports that California remains entrenched in moderate-to-exceptional drought as the fifth into sixth consecutive dry months since October, likely ensuring that the region will suffer back-to-back dry water years.
- In California, 91 percent of the state is in drought, according to the U.S. Drought Monitor.
- Precipitation totals and snowpack remain well below normal. Since the North Pacific storm season is at its end, the amount of additional precipitation that can be expected is too small to reverse drought conditions, especially in the most intense drought regions.
- Drought impacts (e.g., pasture conditions, ecosystem health, water supply, fire potential) will likely intensify and expand given back-to-back dry years. Drought preparedness is key.

Anna Derby, Mutual 5 My Mother: Wonderful and Resilient

It has been already 16 years since my mother passed away in the summer of 2005 but sometimes I still imagine I would hear her voice if I called Korea.

My mother was born and raised in small town southwest of Seoul. She was one of six girls, who was not given a higher eduction because, at the time, it wasn't deemed necessary to find a good husband and become wife and a mother.

At age of 18, she married and at 19, she became a mother.

In all, she had nine children, losing two daughters in infancy. She did not have many resources or convenience in her life.

For her, being a mother was the most important role of all.

My parents wanted their children to have as much education as they could afford, an opportunity they did not have.

Our middle class family—my mother and father and seven children—was happy growing up and then we lost our father to a heart attack.

I was only 20 years old, and my mom was a widow at 49 years age. We didn't have much to hold on to. The only sibling who had finished school was my oldest brother Bok Kyu. He had a good job at a bank in Seoul. With his sacrifice, the rest of us were able to finish our educations, and life went on. All of my siblings ended up settling in America, Germany and Vancouver, Canada.

My siblings and I missed our mother dearly as she stayed in Korea. We all called her weekly, but we had to make sure it was not during her prayer time. When she was 60, she converted to Christianity from Buddhism. She spent one hour a day praying for her children, grandchildren and their families.

Throughout her 89 years life, we had many significant moments and family affairs. One of the happiest came in the summer of 2001. My daughter Jane was to be married in a one-of-a-kind wedding in Malibu.

My siblings and I weren't sure my mother could travel. She was 85 years old, suffered from painful arthritis, and the flight would be a grueling 11 hours. But I knew she wouldn't miss her granddaughter Jane's wedding, no matter how challenging it was to attend.

Her once-in-a-lifetime experience began with rehearsal dinner to meet the groom's family and friends. A beachside wedding was held the next day. It brought her to tears. After that there was sightseeing in LA, a trip to the Santa Monica Farmers Market, to Brentwood and a Getty Center visit, with each of nine family members taking turns pushing her wheelchair.

It was most precious to spend time with her as a family. We all got to tell her how much we appreciated all she had done for us. Our hearts were filled with joy that we were able to show her love. My mom was fragile and vulnerable, yet she was determined to spend every minute possible with her children. The memory of that trip persists to this day as I pay tribute to my amazing mother on this Mother's Day.

Ethel Carter, Mutual 2 My Mother: A Great Influencer

My mother, Essie Mildred Bohannan Carter, was a great influence on my life. She was born on the 4th of July, 1909, in Huntsville, Arkansas. As a child she was rather shy and timid, but she was very protective of her younger brother and carried pebbles in her pockets on the way to school to use against any bullies who might attack him.

Essies family moved to California in 1928, after she attended college for a year at the University of Arkansas. They settled in the town of Fullerton. She married my father, John Cecil Carter, in 1934, during the Great Depression. She and Cecil bought a 2-acre farm in Anaheim on Ball Road three years later. I was the youngest of their three children, born in 1942.

As a farm wife and mother of three, Essie was a very hard worker. She loved animals and she and Cecil had a variety of animals, besides family pets, during the 40s.

At one time they had a thousand rabbits in hutches. Essie would often have to save baby rabbits when they fell out of their hutch by putting them on a newspaper in our kitchen oven, propping the oven door open a crack and putting the heat setting very low.

She helped plant a huge vegetable garden and fruit trees and canned green beans and peaches for the family to enjoy during the colder months. She was known for her boysenberry cobbler recipe.

I have fond memories of my mother rocking me as a toddler. She sewed dresses for me on a Singer Sewing machine with a treadle when I started school. She encouraged my love of singing and got me started taking accordion lessons when I was 9. She made sure I attended Sunday School and church, and read the Bible. She encouraged me to study hard and prepare to graduate from college to become an elementary school teacher.

I became a caregiver for my aging mother in 1997. She lived to the age of 93, having lived in Seal Beach Leisure World for the last nine years of her life.

Barbara Houck's mother, Lois Olive Warren (Pettit) Cowan, was always the lady, and Barbara was taught be the same.

Bethany Webb to speak on the Death Penalty on May 11

by Nancy Goldstein

LW contributor

The Senior Peace Club's next meeting will take place via Zoom on Tuesday, May 11, at 2 p.m. This month's speaker will be Bethany Webb of California Crime Victims for Alternatives to the Death Penalty.

In 2011, Webb's sister Laura was killed and her mother, Hattie, was wounded in the Salon Meritage massacre in Seal Beach. Webb worked with the other victims' family members to oppose the death penalty in the resulting trial, based on her opposition to the practice and on the fact that it would cause the families to incur a painful and unending litigation process. Webb even spoke to the then-Orange County District Attorney to let him know her opposition to the death penalty, although the District Attorney rebuffed her while still continuing to tout his "victims' rights" bona fides. In 2017, the defendant was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole because the judge presiding over the case found that the corruption in the Orange County District Attorney's office and Orange County Sheriff's Department had been so pervasive that he could not guarantee a constitutional sentencing hearing.

In 2016, Webb was one of the most forceful campaigners for Prop. 62, a statewide ballot initiative that would have abolished the death penalty in California. It came very close to passing. She continues to be active in the fight to end the death penalty and to challenge corrupt prosecutors at the local level.

There will be a question-and-answers session after the pre-

Clear out junk mail solicitations

Why are mailboxes constantly filled with unsolicited mail? One reason is because companies often pad their coffers by selling or renting customer lists.

The average American receives 41 pounds of junk mail per year. Not only does junk mail clog up mailboxes, but it also wreaks havoc on the environment. Nearly half of the junk mail received annually (44 percent) ends up in a landfill. In addition, nearly $320 million in local tax money is used to dispose of junk mail, and more than 100 million trees are used to create pulpwood for paper products.

While the United States Postal Service does not have a one-stop method for reducing junk mail, there are many ways to reduce the

Many times stores and restaurants will ask customers to fill out a survey to receive a free gift or discount. However, in the fine print ,the survey is not being conducted by the business being rated, but by another company that then can sell the information to other parties. Remember, nothing is really free.

The key to stopping unwanted advertising mail is getting off the mailing lists. There are literally thousands of commercial lists out there.

Several actions are needed to stop the delivery of unwanted mail, and even after opting out, not all mail solicitations will end. Solicitations may still be received from local merchants, religious and charitable organizations; professional and alumni associations; politicians; and companies with which you do business.

Here are some steps to reduce unwanted mail:

Mary Greytak (center) had a small gathering with immediate family to celebrate her birthday.

LW BIRTHDAYS

Mary Greytak celebrates 99th birthday

by Brian Harmon

I W contributor

Mary Greytak of Mutual 6 including her daughter, Dee Harcelebrated her 99th birthday with her crazy, loving family. Mary's birthday bash was held in Oceanside with her daughter, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, granddaughters, great-grands and a few spouses. Although a small family, they make up for it with laughter and fun.

Born in Jeffersonville, Indiana, her first job was at the local newspaper, where she worked for five years as a reporter, office manager, daily columnist and society editor.

She married her first husband of 40 years, Claude Cox, while volunteering at the USO. He was an army sergeant who had been stationed in Alaska during the war and was sent to Indiana with a group assigned to assist during a major flood.

They married and came to his home state of California in 1945. They settled in Baldwin Park, where they raised two children, mon, who lives with her husband, Brian, in Mutual 12.

After retirement, she and Claude bought a motor home and traveled throughout the United States and Canada for three years.

Over 20 years ago, Mary became a resident of Leisure World. She has been involved with many of the clubs, her favorite being the Cribbage Club, for which she was president and held other officer positions for many years. This is also where she met two of her three husbands.

The Democratic Club celebrated its club booth reopening since the start of pandemic.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Outdoor club booth now open weekly at Clubhouse 6

by Mary Larson

LW contributor

On April 27, the LW Democratic Club officially reopened its voter registration booth in the parking lot outside Clubhouse 6. Ten club members participated in the opening day celebration. A special thanks goes to Dave Silva, who coordinated setting up the tent. Due to concern for the wellbeing of visitors, the volunteers staffing the booth wore masks even though they had all been fully vaccinated. They also had pens in a bottle marked "clean pens" and made sure each pen was used only once.

In addition to voter registration information, visitors to the booth had access to copies of the club's latest electronic newsletter, membership application forms and the club's newly updated brochure.

Under the leadership of board member Racheal Lehmberg, the Democratic Club's booth will be open every Tuesday from 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Volunteers interested in assisting in this effort should call Lehmberg at (562) 340-9816.

On Wednesday, May 19, the Democratic Club will welcome Orange County Democratic Party Chairwoman Ada Briceño as its featured speaker. Briceño will update members on issues relating to the upcoming recall election. In addition, she will report on the election of the state's Democratic Party leadership for 2021-2025 and what happened during the recently completed state Party Convention. She will also lead a discussion on any significant changes made in the party's platform during that convention.

All Leisure World Democrats and supporters are welcome to attend the meeting on May 19 at noon. Login information by computer or phone will be included in the club's electronic newsletter. Those who are not already subscribed to the newsletter should call the club president, Mary Tromp, at (562) 412-0898 with their contact information and party affiliation in order to receive the login information.

Club members and supporters interested in receiving in-depth information about issues of concern to Democrats are invited to visit the newly-expanded resource section of the club's website on a regular basis at sblwdems. wordpress.com or by Googling "SBLW Democratic Club."

To subscribe to the club's electronic newsletter, call the editor Mary Larson at (562) 296-8521 or email democraticclubsblw@ gmail.com. Remember to include your full contact information. This newsletter is available only to club members and their supporters although back issues are published on the club's website.

REPUBLICAN CLUB

Meeting changed to Wednesday, May 26

The Republican Club's next Zoom meeting will be Wednesday, May 26, rather than the usual third Wednesday of each month.

People can email dharlow50@aol.com or call (714) 928-1050 to join the club. Club members are emailed the link to the next meeting, agendas, minutes and other information.

The club has tentatively scheduled a picnic for Tuesday, June 15, in the picnic area by Clubhouse 1 to honor and celebrate the volunteers who have worked so hard during the past year.

The last Repblican Club meeting in April featured a discussion rather than a speaker. The discussion, led by Brian Harmon, focused on a number of topics, including regulation of big tech, unlimited immigration, election integrity and Derek Chauvin's guilty verdict.

The guilty verdict in the trial of Derek Chauvin for Killing George Floyd sparked considerable discussion. Some members were concerned about aspects of the trial including its publicity, while other's supported the verdict, believing that the jury received information the public didn't and did the best they could with the information presented.

A club member suggested holding a panel discussion on the larger issue of police violence and ways of preventing it in the future. The Republican Club's president suggested inviting a police officer to speak to the club on the subject, from the perspective of being in a situation where life and death decisions must be made, sometimes in less than a second.

The GOP club does not charge membership dues or impose any other financial obligation on members.

Ock Sang Im passed away on April 24, at the age of 87. She is survived by Suk Im, her husband of 62 years, their three children and three grandchildren. Ock was born in Korea and moved with her children to Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1965 to join her husband, who was working toward a Ph.D. The family subsequently lived in Arizona, Michigan and Colorado. In 1979, the Ims returned to Korea, where Ock and her husband lived for the next 30 years. Ock's creative talents were expressed in painting, creative writing, and gardening.

Most of all, she loved Leisure World for its warm and diverse community. She valued friendship, and her many friends will greatly miss her.

A memorial service for Ock Sang Im was held on May 5 at the Korean Martyrs Catholic

HUMOR

It's a junkyard dog's life

I was out for a walk by the dawn's early light, when I heard the anxious whimpering of a dog. I looked around and saw him seated on a neighbor's porch rail. After a little ear scratching and a belly rub, he told me his story:

"My mom was a Rambler. My dad was a Ranchero. They met one night when dad rear-ended her at a red light in Tijuana. They were both towed to a junkyard. The owner there sold them for parts, and with what was left, he made me. Tail pipe for a tail, turn signal eyes—I was a genuine junkyard dog. One day, I was sleeping in the sun at a souvenir shop, and when I woke up, I was wrapped in old newspapers and in the trunk of a car. That's how I got to Leisure World. Being here has been the best. It's a dog's life!"

—Jim Schneiderman, Mutual 3

Golf League Results

On April 26, the Men's League played at Riverview Golf Course in Santa Ana. It was a cool morning that did not warm up, but there was bright sunshine throughout the round for the 10 men and one woman golfer.

The 5,800-yard, par-70 course is very up-and-down, paralleling and crossing the Santa River. Numerous water hazards and yawning sand traps confront the golfers. The back nine is 500 yards longer and more demanding than the front. The par 5s are a significant challenge to the golfer whose average drive is 160-200 yards; several of the par 3s cross160 yards and are over water.

Riverview's greens and fairways are in great condition, and the scores reflected it, with eight of the players scoring below par—plus, there were four birdies.

All scores are net (actual score minus handicap). A Flight handicaps range from 0-20; B flight is higher than 20.

A Flight Winners: First place: Bill McKusky, 5 under 65, plus a birdie and fewest putts; second: Larry Hillhouse, 4 under 66, plus a birdie; third: Dave LaCascia, 3 under 67, plus a birdie; fourth: Sam Choi, 2 over 72. LaCascia was closest to the pin on the 100-yard, par-3, over water 16th hole.

BFlight Winners: First place: Bill Zurn, a nice 8 under 62; second: Lowell Goltra, a sweet 7 under 63: third: Bob Munn, 3 under 67; fourth: Marv Ballard, 2 over 72. Goltra carded a birdie; was closest to the pin on the 150-yard, par-3 second hole; and tied for fewest putts with Munn.

The David L Baker Golf Club in Fountain Valley welcomed 12 men and one woman on the sunny, warm morning of April 30. The day warmed up dramatically, and it was hot by the round's end.

Baker is a par-62, 4,000-yard, fairly flat executive course, with strategically placed sand traps and diabolical water hazards designed to catch errant drives or approach shots. The fairways were in great shape, but the greens were recently aerated and were still recovering. The players accepted these challenges, and even with the blue tees set way back, 11 of the 13 rounds were under par, but allowed only two birdies.

A Flight Winners: First place: tie between Gary Stivers, Tim Looney and Fujio Norihiro, 5 under 57; second: tie between Hillhouse, Glenn Barry and McKusky, 2 under 60; third: "Couldn't Make a Putt" LaCascia, even par 62; and fourth: Paul Cose, returning after an absence with 2 over 62. Stivers had fewest putts, and McKusky was closest to the pin on the 100-yard, par-3 15th hole. Looney had the only two birdies. Stivers, Barry and Looney each carded a "greenie" on the challenging 130-yard, par-3 12th hole, with its huge sand trap in front.

B Flight Winners: First place: Ballard, a tremendous 12-underpar 50, plus closest to the pin on the diabolical, over water, par-3 third hole; second: Tom Ross, a superb 8 under 54, plus fewest putts; third: Munn, 6 under 56; fourth: Liz Meripol, 4 under 58; fifth: Goltra.

LW Men's Club membership is not required, and friends, ladies, spouses and family are all welcome to play and/or join. There is a prize pool for each round that players are not obligated to enter.

—Dave LaCascia

Chess Club

The Chess Club publishes weekly puzzles to keep the love of the game alive until its members meet to play in person again.

This week's puzzle is checkmate in three moves. White moves first. Any answer by Black, and White's third move is checkmate.

The solution to this week's puzzle's first move is: Rf5. The White Rook moves from c5 to f5. Black pawn takes R.

Coin Club

The Leisure World Coin Club will meet on the greenbelt by 13550 Medinac Lane, Unit 103-L, on May 12 at 1:30 p.m. After the Pledge of Allegiance and various announcements, club members have a chance for "show and tell," in which they can something interesting in their collection or in the world of collecting.

The highlight of the meetings is the coin auction, wherein members can offer a coin or two for bidding. In deference to the members' LW neighbors, this often noisy event is currently conducted as a silent auction. There are also members/dealers on-site who buy and sell coins.

Additionally, there are a number of raffles for coins or cash.

Face masks are requested, and members must provide their own chairs. There will be a break for refreshments. Meetings are open to the LW community; anybody can bring a coin for evaluation or sale.

David Noble

Community Karaoke

It was a beautiful night for singing on April 29. It was warm and lovely, with more than 20 singers performing many toetappin', swaying-to-the-music type of songs. David Noble sang several songs, one being the Elvis hit "If I Can Dream." Bev Adams did a fine rendition of "Only You" by the Platters. A new resident, Eric Voge, sounded good doing "Kiss an Angel Good Morning," while another newbie, Lori Chamberlain, had a nice voice while singing "I Have a Dream."

There's no karaoke today, May 6. But on May 13, chairs will be set up by LW custodians under the awning of Veterans Plaza at 4:15 p.m. Everyone is welcome to sing or just enjoy the voices of others.

Mother's Flower

This time last year awakened from a deep sleep by the fragrance of my mother's flower

All night long
my heart beat faster
like waves the vision coming clear
I heard familiar sounds like sweet breathing
the swish of her skirt

It has been 20 years since the darkness came A thunderstorm in the night broke the gardenia tree that she had given precious care

Now every morning the dew drop on the gardenia appears . . . to remind me of her last tear . . . brings my tears In my new life in this strange land I meet my gardenia mother

Surely this year
as the snowy fragrant blossoms open my visions of mother will come again
—Cho Heah Lee, Mutual 7

Garden Club

Leisure World Garden Club's annual plant sale on April 29 was a grand success. Although the COVID-19 pandemic has severely limited the club's activities, the community response was overwhelming. Those who came to the sale gave generously, so the club wants to say "thank you" to all those who attended for their magnanimous support.

The Garden Club is one of the LW community's largest and most vibrant organizations. It hopes to greet new members when the club resumes its monthly meetings.

Men's Golf Club

The second Leisure World Men's Golf Club Tournament AC (After COVID) was played on April 28. Three Flights vied for best net scores, including four circle holes (5-foot circle) and two closest-to-the-pin challenges.

A total of 43 golfers competed over a period of 5-plus hours. The weather was initially cool, but it warmed up nicely with mostly sunshine. This brought some wind later in the morning. The tee boxes are still in poor condition, and the greens have not yet rebounded from their aeration some weeks back. This probably led to only 14 rounds under par.

A flight encompasses golfers with handicaps of 0-6, B flight is handicaps of 7-12, and C flight is handicaps of 13-18. All scores below are net (gross score minus handicap).

A Flight Winners: First place: tie between Glenn Barry and Tom Owens, 2 under 52; second: John Haley, 1 under 53; third: Dong Kim, even par 54; fourth: tie between Alan Sewell, Jae H. Lee, Bill Long, Steve Walker and Bob Turner, 1 over 55; fifth: David Kwon, 2 over 56.

B Flight Winners: First place: tie between Gene Archambault and Jay Kim, 4 under 50; second: tie between Dave LaCascia, Chang Choi, Ron Steele and David Do, 1 under 53; third: Paul Alloway, even par 54; fourth: Won Song, 1 over 55; fifth: tie between Young Lee and Ryan Hong.

CFlight Winners: First place: tie between James Farr and Andrew Kim, 3 under 51; second: James Choi. 2 under 52; third: Bill Smith, even par 54; fourth: Hyon Shin, 1 over 55; fifth: Roger Bennett, 3 over 57.

Closest to the pin on the 85-yard, par-3 8th and 17th holes were Owens and Archambault, respectively. There were also six circle hole winners.

The next Men's Tournaments will be on May 11 and 28. The first Guys and Gals Tournament of the year will be on May 19, then every third and fifth Wednesday (if there is one). Contact Tournament Director Alan Sewell for more details. Anyone signed up to play who cannot do so for whatever reason should contact Sewell as soon as possible.

Report Coyote Activity

The following information is from the Seal Beach Coyote Management Plan at www.sealbeachca.gov.

To report coyote sightings, call Long Beach Animal Care Services at (562) 570-7387. Through an innovative program residents can also report wildlife activity online. For complaints or questions regarding coyotes, call Long Beach Animal Care Services at (562) 570-7387.

Residents should take precautions to avoid creating potential

- Feed pets indoors or promptly remove dishes when pets complete their meals outdoors. Store bags of pet food indoors.
- Use trash barrels fitted with pipe clamping devices on the lids to prevent spills.
- Remove fallen fruit particularly avocados, from yards and orchards. Fallen fruit will attract other food 'sources' for coyotes.
- Clear brush and dense weeds around your property. This deprives shelter to rodents and reduces protective cover for coyotes.
- Keep small animals indoors as much as possible, especially at night.
  - Do not feed or provide water to coyotes or other wildlife.
- Do not use plastic bags as garbage containers. Coyotes will rummage through them looking for food.
- Do not put trash cans out the night before the scheduled pick up. Put them out in the morning. Coyotes are intelligent and learn to knock them over to access the contents.

Coyotes visit at nighttime and during the day. They display no fear in the presence of people. People are advised to be very cautious when leaving animals and small children unattended outdoors. Coyotes can jump up to 14 feet, and wrought iron or chain link fences do not deter them.

Over the past several years, coyote sightings have become more common within the City of Seal Beach and in LW. Although statistics show attacks on humans are extremely rare, it is always a good idea to regularly remind the residents how to safely co-exist with coyotes.

First and foremost, the most effective way to prevent coyote attacks in city neighborhoods is to eliminate the feeding of any wildlife whether intentionally or accidentally.

That means keep trash cans secure, do not leave pet food outside and do not feed them food of any kind. Coyotes are generally timid and shy animals that tend to steer clear of any potential danger and thus pose little threat to humans.

Residents with small pets (less than 20 pounds) should supervise them while outdoors.

Domestic cats left outdoors can also serve to attract coyotes. It is important that domestic cats and small dogs be kept indoors. A coyote cannot tell the difference between a small cat or dog and a rabbit, mouse or any other food source.

"My place had been on the market nearly six months with another company. Nothing was happening. I canceled the listing and listed the property with Carol. She priced the property correctly, staged the place (beautifully, I might add). She even tidied up the patio, etc. as I had moved out of state. We had an offer in no time. She was very energetic and worked hard to find a buyer for my property. She saw to it that escrow ran smoothly and she was on top of the paperwork at all times. I highly recommend Carol."
