LW WEEKLY

Deadlines change due to new printer

Some deadlines at the LW Weekly will change as the paper transitions to a new printer effective Nov. 18. The move was necessitated because the current printer is shifting operations to a Riverside plant that cannot accommodate Weekly’s print needs.

Because of longer turn-around and delivery times, some advertising deadlines will be earlier in the production cycle. Also, editors will need to file pages earlier starting next week. So editorial submission deadlines of 4 p.m. on Thursdays will be more firmly enforced, although every effort will be made to accommodate LWers when possible. Classified advertising deadlines will change from 2:30 p.m. to noon on Mondays.

The LW Weekly has done its best to ensure a continued high standard of printing and adherence to usual delivery times. Thank you, readers, for your patience as the transition unfolds.

HOLIDAY REMINDER

GRF offices are closed today, Nov. 11, for Veterans Day. The Leisure World Maintenance Department will be on call for emergencies at (562) 594-4754. The Minibus and Access bus will operate on the holiday schedule.

Donna Gambol

The LW Veterans Memorial is a permanent reminder of the debt all Americans owe to U.S. Armed Forces. A marker to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was dedicated last week.

LW Veterans Day service is today at CH 2

The 100th anniversary of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery will be observed throughout the country today. This iconic monument is dedicated to members of the U.S. armed services whose remains have not been identified. It was first authorized on March 4, 1921, when the U.S. Congress approved the burial of an unidentified American serviceman from World War I.

Today, American Legion Post 327 and Legion Auxiliary will sponsor a Veterans Day remembrance from 10-11 a.m. today, Nov. 11 in Clubhouse 2. Everyone is welcome.

The event begins at 9:30 a.m. with patriotic music by the Velvetones. Post 327 Cmdr. Rich Carson and Auxiliary President Geri McNulty will give an introduction.

John Minnella, American Legion commander of California District 29, will be the guest speaker. His topic is “Veterans Day: Why It Is Important.”

Cmdr. Carson will explain the symbolism of each item on the “POW-MIA Missing Man Table,” a semi-official place of honor in some dining facilities of the U.S. armed forces in memory of fallen, missing in action or prisoner of war military service members.

As part of the event, at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, LW veterans and their supporters will pause to recognize those who have sacrificed in defense of freedom and democracy, a moment known as the National Salute.

Tom Schmitz, the post’s sergeant-at-arms, will play taps.

Cathy Weissman and the Naval Sea Cadets will escort residents to seats and help elsewhere as needed.

The American Legion Post 327 Auxiliary will host a table with patriotic items for sale.

LWer dies in the first of 2 separate crashes on SB Boulevard

Driver charged with DUI in fatal crash on Nov. 4

by Ruth Osborn
rutho_news@lwsb.com

Within the space of two days, two separate crashes on Seal Beach Boulevard between Westminster Avenue and St. Andrews Drive claimed the lives of two people, one of them a six-year resident of Mutual 1 who was on her way to lunch with her sister. Guadalupe “Lupe” Lupita Ibarra died after being transported to Long Beach Memorial Medical Center, according to her daughter Sonia Amaral.

Ibarra and her sister, Maria Solis, were turning onto Seal Beach Boulevard from St. Andrews Drive at about 3:40 p.m. on Nov. 4 when their car was struck in the intersection by a suspected drunk driver, according to a Seal Beach police report.

Orange County Fire Authority transported both drivers and Ibarra’s sister to local hospitals.

Ibarra died at the hospital as a result of injuries sustained in

The driver of the other car was identified as German Juarez, 29, of Los Angeles.

He sustained minor injuries and was later arrested for felony driving under the influence of alcohol and vehicular manslaughter. Upon his release from the hospital, Juarez was booked at the Orange County Jail.

Police closed Seal Beach Boulevard in both directions from Westminster Boulevard to Golden Rain Road to clear the accident and begin an investigation.

St. Andrews Gate was also closed. Detoured rush hour traffic snarled freeway on-ramps and alternate arterial roads for several hours.

Ibarra was well known in LW. She was an active member of the

SPRING NOCE CLASSES

Registration begins soon for LW classes

In early December, registration will begin for the spring semester of North Orange Continuing Education (NOCE) classes held in Leisure World.

Registration for the free classes will require advance preparation. Residents who want to enroll in a NOCE class should begin the application process now by visiting www.NOCE.edu.

Fill out the interest form, and in few days, NOCE will contact the applicant to complete the form and provide him or her with a Banner ID (student number).

They will then be able to access the MyGateway online portal, where they can upload COVID-19 vaccination documentation, which is required to register for spring classes.

NOCE staff will stop by LW classes during November to help people already enrolled upload vaccination documents.

Residents can also upload the document to MyGateway themselves.

The library has eight computers and two scanners available Monday-Saturday from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. for people who need them.

Those who have trouble applying or logging in with Banner IDs or passwords should contact NOCE Star Help Monday-Friday at (714) 808-4679.

For all other questions, call the library at (562) 598-2431 and ask for Library Operations Assistant Taylor Greene.

OC FAIRGROUNDS

New exhibit showcases artwork of local veterans

A new exhibit at Heroes Hall on the Orange County Fairgrounds will showcase the artwork of 24 local veterans and active U.S. service members. Called "Through Their Eyes: Artwork by Active Military and Veterans," the exhibit features artists who have expressed their individual experiences through a variety of mediums including sculpture, photography, painting, carving and woodworking.
The artists' subjects are as unique as the artists themselves and range from combat scenes to flowers, from landscapes to surreal portraits. Though their artwork varies by subject and individual perspective, one thing unifies them: they have all served in the U.S. Armed Forces.

Heroes Hall Museum is dedicated to honoring U.S. service members and providing a place where they can tell their stories. For this exhibit, military service members have conveyed their personal experiences through the use of color, perspective, texture and distinct style.

Heroes Hall is open for self tours Wednesdays-Sundays from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. It is next to Centennial Farm; enter at Gate 1. For more information, visit ocfair.com/heroeshall. The OC Fair & Event Center, 88 Fair Drive, Costa Mesa, is home to the annual OC Fair and Imaginology.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

I enjoy early morning walks around our beautiful neighborhoods. Everything is fresh, and the flowers are blooming. When I turn a corner, sometimes I see a little white cross in a flower bed, bright and shining in the morning sun, standing out against the greenery. I smile and am reminded of what it stands for: "Hope!" I begin to pray silently for my country, America, as the words on (the cross) remind me to ask God to bless America, although I don't really need reminding. It also reminds me of the America I remember from my youth so many years ago. I know that it is the only hope we have for our country.

I don't think of cemeteries when I see that little white cross. Oh, maybe on military ones, as a tribute to those who have died for our freedom. That does bring tears to my eye, thinking of all who will never see their homeland again. But that cross is "empty." It is the promise and hope that I have as to where I am going when I leave Leisure World for the last time.

You see, the man who died on that cross, died for me and you; He rose again from the dead and is in heaven to receive me one day. I hope you may come to see them in the same way, instead of as something disturbing. Thank you for putting them in your flower beds and to those who make them. They are lovely and remind me of the hope I have for this country and for myself.

Thank you to Diane McFadden, my Mutual 9 director, who always goes that extra mile to help us with whatever issue we may have. I've been under a lot of stress recently with, among other things, the passing of both my parents within weeks of each other. While trying to get my mother's estate in order (she was a 39-year LW resident), I encountered several obstacles requiring a lot of attention. I was overwhelmed. I reached out to Diane, who, without thinking twice, jumped in and helped me with every single detail.

There are truly no words to express my deepest appreciation and thanks. And this is not the first time she has stepped up to help. She is always there for us. A special thanks to President Beth Mayer, who does an outstanding job on our behalf. You guys rock.

Thoughts on Veterans Day

by Michael McGrorty
LW contributor

There was a time not so long ago when being a veteran was not an especially enviable position. A failed war in Southeast Asia brought blame upon the military and those who had fought. This situation turned around after the Mideast wars, when the public suddenly began a reverence for veterans that continues to this day.

I often wear an old Navy PT shirt out in the community, and it's common for people to offer thanks for my service. This surprises me, but I've learned to reply "no, thank you" to these kind folks. The reason for this is that I came out far better in the exchange.

For me, the Navy was a way out of several problems: first, my father had died, leaving us with little income. Apart from that, the economy was in a recession and there were no jobs. I was at that time only 17, no more mature than most boys and certainly unprepared for college.

Boot camp was the first day of my adult life, which is to say, the world of responsibility and consequences. They fooled us into thinking they were training us to be sailors, but the truth was, they were training us to leave childhood behind. In that place, alongside the harbor in San Diego, hundreds of kids like me learned to follow directions, to perform complex tasks, and especially, to abandon the sense of self for the ideal of group success.

It's a hard thing for a kid who can't even vote to be told, "You're here to learn how to fight a war for your country. Some of you will die doing that, when the hour comes." The most impressive sight of the whole time was seeing a battle dressing, a huge rectangle of gauze, that we were taught to tie around the abdomen of a casualty whose guts had been blown out. These bandages were tinted red, as if to give a hint of what lay ahead.

We learned to fight ship fires by being put on a grating above a tank of diesel fuel that was set ablaze. If you didn't fight the fire effectively, you were simply barbecued. (Meanwhile, somewhere back home, my high school mates were getting tanned on the beach.) As a conclusion to this course of education, I spent a week cleaning trays in the base scullery, from before dawn to after dark.

I served on three ships and found that being a clerk meant only what you were supposed to do for eight of the 24 hours each day, the rest being filled with other work and occasionally, sleep. There were two worlds: in-port, and at sea. Being in-port gave the illusion of normalcy within the Navy format, but we were always busy. Being at sea was like leaving the earth—not for another plane, but for a long ride on an endless liquid desert, featureless until it got angry and decided to drown us. Being on a destroyer is like sitting in a steel shoebox astride a running motor, with a load of bombs beside you. The shoebox bucks and rolls, and you somehow have to maintain work and sanity in a pitching netherworld where time essentially stops. You and a couple hundred of your friends will do this for more than half a year, occasionally stopping at some foreign port to fuel yourselves up before returning to America again.

The whole experience changes you. There is a trauma attached to it that's never lived down. You have less space than federal prisoners and considerable responsibility. You refuel the ship in rough weather, stand watches in freezing cold, dodge helicopter blades, lift heavy objects and carry on until relieved. I saw people get injured; I saw them die. I found out that those battle dressings work quite well on an amputated foot. I got sideways with a ship-mate and found out how it hurts to get your face stitched up without anesthetic.

There were compensations: I saw Hong Kong on a New Year's Day, when the air was crisp as rice paper and its cobbled backstreets filled with the scent of tea and incense. I visited Australia and was treated to lunch by a couple of total strangers who couldn't thank me enough for saving them in the war that had ended a generation before. I saw Hawaii, the Philippines, Alaska, atolls lost

MEDICARE

One size does not fit all

by Sandra Teel
Medicare Insurance Broker

As Medicare’s Open Enrollment Period continues through Dec. 7, you’ll be invited to learn about all the new Medicare plans for 2022. There are so many new plans it can be mind-boggling. Perhaps you attended a Medicare seminar at your medical center, or maybe you sat in on a seminar because a friend told you about it, or you might have received an invitation in the mail to “come and see” a new plan.

Some of those plans look too good to be true. How can you tell what’s the right fit for you? Here are some critical things to consider before you take the leap into changing plans.

- Check to make sure your doctors are in the new plan.
- Where do your prescriptions fall in the new plan’s tiers? Each Medicare insurance company can place drugs in different tiers, and those tiers can be at different price points.
- Compare the changes in new plans with your current plan to be clear on any coverage changes and price changes. If the agent or company doesn’t verify your doctors, check your prescriptions or explain everything, then don’t sign! If you feel you need help, contact a Medicare specialist such as myself. They are able to review your needs and apply them to the plans you are considering. They can help you navigate through all the different plans to find the proper fit for you. But you’ll need to do so before Dec. 7 to ensure you are signed up with the right plan.

Sandra Teel is a Medicare insurance broker. She can be reached at (657) 204-4224.

Religion

First Christian Church

First Christian Church thanks all the veterans and active-duty servicemen and -women. It is because of the sacrifices in the past, present and future that Americans enjoy the freedoms in this country. God bless you.

Services

Saturday and Sunday services have the same message by Pastor Bruce Humes.

Sunday is a traditional service, with hymnal music provided by Pat Kogok at the piano from 9:30-10:45 a.m.

The Saturday service is contemporary, with Gregory Black leading in worship and guitar accompaniment. Saturday service time is 9:30-10:45 a.m.

Friday prayer meetings are from 6-7 p.m. The weekly Bible study led by Jack Frost is on Wednesday mornings from 9:30-10:30. Open to all interested.

The Message

1 Thessalonians 1:1 begins with, "Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy. To the church of the Thessalonians in God the father and the Lord Jesus Christ." The early church converts were primarily Jewish, and since the Greek word for church means an assembly of people, this made it perfectly clear it was an assembly gathered in the name of Jesus, the son of God who is both Lord God and the messiah.

He continues in verse 1, "Grace to you and peace from God our father and the Lord Jesus Christ." The emphasis again is on the equality between God the father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Faith Christian Assembly

The Bible says that "those who are planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God" (Psalm 92:13, New Living Translation). Everyone wants to flourish. Believers can look at this verse to get a better idea of what it means to flourish and how to do it.

Church-goers know that the church building is often referred to as the house of the Lord. In the original language, the Hebrew word used here for house can also mean household, which makes it inclusive of those who attend. Next, the definition of the verb plant means "to put or set in the ground for growth."

Another translation of this verse reads, "they are transplanted into the Lord's own garden and are under his personal care" (The Living Bible). These translations provide a picture of what regular church attendance can be for "those who are planted."

When believers are planted, they experience growth through the word of God, relationships and part community. Church is so much more than people sometimes think of it. Some may have experienced church as an obligation or duty or a place with rituals and rules, but it doesn't have to be that way. There is a supernatural exchange that takes place when people go to meet God in his house alongside his people, in the freedom and joy that God intended.

Sunday service times are at 10:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., and the pre-service prayer is at 5 p.m. The midweek Bible study is on Wednesdays at 11 a.m. Griefshare meets every Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. in the Garden Room. Call the church office for the most updated schedule information.

Pastor Sheri Leming

Community Church

Throughout centuries, the church has done a lot of talking about who is lost and who is found. In the Gospel of Mark, Jesus reveals a truth that people still wrestle with: those who think they are found are the ones who are most lost. It is a stinging reminder for believers to adopt an attitude of humility as they go through the world.

Those who have been to church in the past and found it lacking a sense of humility, or who have run out of steam keeping up appearances and are ready humbly accept God's love, are welcome to join Community Church.

Community Church is a place where everything is designed with the first-time participant in mind.

Every week, Pastor Johan Dodge reminds all who are present that the word Gospel means "good news," and if the word of God is being used in a way that isn't good news, then it isn't the true Gospel. Those who have not felt welcome in church or have never participated in church before are welcome. All are welcome to come to Community Church.

Sunday, Nov. 21, will be Community Church's big return to in-person worship with the worship team. Community Church will have a new heating and air system installed and it will offer rapid air replacement and HEPA filtration.

Beit HaLev

Beit HaLev wants to remind the community that its Saturday Shabbat services now begin at 10 a.m.

Beit HaLev livestream services can be viewed at www.Facebook.com/beithalev, www.YouTube.com and Zoom. To join the Zoomagogue community, go to <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/9152434704?pwd=THJGTE1OUXI5VXFDTWtZHF4K3VxUT09>. The meeting ID is 915 243 4704, and the passcode is RavGalit.

Beit HaLev's livestream services are every Friday at 6 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m. In-person services in Clubhouse 3 have been suspended until the beginning of 2022.

In the Torah reading, "Vayeitzei," Ya'akov is now married to twin sisters, Leah and Rachel. After several years of relentless mistreatment by his wives' father, Laban, Ya'akov takes his family and flocks to return to Canaan and an uncertain confrontation with his brother, Esav. On their way, Ya'akov encounters HaShem's angels, who represent the threshold between exile and home, but also the threshold between heaven and earth.

All Beit HaLev services use its special prayerbooks, "Lev L'Lev," which include excerpts from the Reform Siddur, "Mishkan HaT'filah." Printed versions of the prayerbooks will be available for sale when we resume live, in-person services.

Beit HaLev and Rabbi Galit-Shirah are a part of the Union of Jewish Universalist Clergy and Communities. It is progressive in thought and traditional in liturgy.

This introduction will become the trademark of all the apostle Paul’s epistles. The greeting “grace to you and peace” are perhaps two of the best blessings one could receive this side of heaven. Grace is God’s unmerited or undeserved favor in all areas of life. It is the essence of the gospel message of Jesus Christ crucified and raised from the dead, and peace is the result. This peace is a quietness and rest despite the difficulties of this life. This is the “peace of God that surpasses all understanding and will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus” (Philippians 4:7).

Scripture of the Week

This week’s verse is a quote from Jesus at the last supper: “Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid” (John 14:27).

Sunday school children enjoy singing Zacchaeus’ story from Luke 19. Zacchaeus was a crooked businessman whose small stature moved him, in a crowd, to climb a tree to see Jesus. Children will sing “Zacchaeus was a wee little man/And a wee little man was he/He climbed up in a sycamore tree/For the Lord he wanted to see/The Savior passed along that way and looked up in the tree/He said, Zacchaeus you come down/For I’m coming to your house today.”

The Bible’s account records here Jesus’ purpose in coming to Zacchaeus’ town. Jesus only passes through Jericho on his last visit to Jerusalem, but he tells Zacchaeus why he came: to find and redeem unsaved people. The crowd reacts negatively to Jesus showing grace to him. But Zacchaeus’ transformation shows in his response: “Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone, I restore it fourfold.” Jesus replied, “Today salvation has come to this house, because (to the crowd) he, too, is a son of Abraham,” pointing to saving faith like the patriarch’s, and concluding, “For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.”

Zacchaeus’ story is the 10 a.m. worship theme at LW Baptist on Nov. 14. The men’s Bible study group meets on Monday at 10 a.m., and the Energizers will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 3 p.m., studying Malachi’s prophecy of God’s matchless blessing.

DUI checkpoint will be set up in city on Nov. 13

The Seal Beach Police Department will conduct a DUI/driver's license checkpoint on Nov. 13 at an undisclosed location within the city limits between 8 p.m.-3 a.m. The deterrent effect of DUI checkpoints is a proven resource in reducing the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol or drug involved crashes.

The severity of the problem hit home Nov. 4 when a LW resident was killed after a suspected drunken driver collided with her car (see page 2).

Research shows that crashes involving an impaired driver can be reduced by up to 20 percent when well-publicized DUI checkpoints and proactive DUI patrols are conducted routinely.

Officers will be looking for signs of alcohol and/or drug impairment with officers checking drivers for proper licensing delaying motorists only momentarily.

When possible, specially trained officers will be available to evaluate those suspected of drug-impaired driving.

Recent statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) reveal that 25 percent of drivers in traffic-related deaths are the direct result of alcohol impairment.

DUI Checkpoints are placed in locations based on collision statistics and frequency of DUI arrests affording the greatest opportunity for achieving drunk and drugged driving deterrence.

Locations are chosen with safety considerations for the officers and the public.

Drivers caught driving impaired can expect the impact of a DUI arrest to include jail time, fines, fees, DUI classes and other expenses that can easily exceed $10,000.

in the vastness of the Pacific, Korea in a winter so cold the snow blew through Busan like talcum powder in the streets. I spent a year homeported in Japan, taking every possible moment to ride the trains as far as my money would let me, seeing lots of country, including the incredible Tokyo, sprung up from the firestorms of the war to a beautiful, confusing, neon-lit giant of a city.

We were out once off the coast of Honshu on a training cruise, working around the clock to pass qualifications. It was hard work and wearing. We went to battle stations over and over, drilling and drilling, in daytime, at night, endlessly. One day we broke for lunch and then as usual, some of us went to the fantail for coffee and a smoke. It was overcast, but all at once the clouds parted to reveal the snow-capped peak of Mount Fuji, serene and beautiful. For once none of us had any words. We just finished out drinks and went inside for more drills. That, my friends, was the Navy I served in, the one you gave to me. I owe you for all that, and manhood, and a few other details courtesy of the G.I. Bill.

But if you want to thank me, do this: have your kids or grandchildren join the service. It will do them, and the country, much good.

In the second collision on Nov. 6, an unidentified man died after being involved in a single-car crash, according to a police report.

At about 1:23 a.m., Seal Beach police officers observed a north-bound vehicle speeding on Seal Beach Boulevard approaching the intersection with Westminster Avenue.

Seconds later, the driver lost control, and the vehicle collided with a large tree in the center median. Officers attempted to render aid but Orange County Fire Authority pronounced the driver dead at the scene.

No other vehicles or pedestrians were involved, and the driver had no passengers. Seal Beach Boulevard was shut down in both directions while officers investigated. It is unknown if alcohol and/or drugs were a factor.

This is also an ongoing investigation. Anyone with information is asked to contact Traffic Investigator Officer Hector Mercado at (562) 799-4100, ext. 1635, or hmercado@sealbeachca.gov.

COMMUNITY KARAOKE

Singing leads to dancing in CH 1

A full house of LWers enjoyed a slice of pizza and a nice evening of karaoke on Nov. 3. The list of energetic performers included Ray Geierman, Wayne Urban, Frank Destra, Vinny Correnti and Shannon Harrison. Danna Sanders did “Harper Valley PTA,” Richard Yokomi always selects tunes that have a swinging beat. Some folks were even persuaded by the pop songs and ballads sung by regular karaoke members to start dancing. Singing not only improves the lungs, but it also, much like dancing, relieves stress.

Karaoke practice sessions are available every Monday in Clubhouse 6 from 1-3 p.m. for those wanting to polish up the songs they’ll be performing at the Wednesday karaoke parties in Clubhouse 1 at 5:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to the weekly

All LW residents are welcome to join the group for hula lessons on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. in Clubhouse 6; after 2:30 p.m., a Hawaiian band led by Larry Yamashiro plays for everyone to dance along to. Additional classes are offered on Thursdays at 1 p.m. in Veterans Plaza. Wear soft shoes or dance barefoot.

VETERANS DAY

Honoring All Who Served

Freedom comes at a cost. It takes the courage, commitment, and sacrifice of the men and women who serve in our military. To the heroes, warriors, protectors, patriots, veterans of all ages and backgrounds; those who defend our liberty and our lives in times of conflict as well as peace. You have served our country with honor and pride, sacrificing so much in order that we may keep those rights we hold dear. From the front lines on foreign soil, to the hometowns that celebrate your return, you have made our nation stronger and our world safer.

On this Veterans Day, Rowntree Gardens senior living community joins our nation to honor those who have willingly paid the price for our freedom. We will never forget your selfless service. We will never forget that you are the reason we live in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

We honor you. We thank you. And we salute you.

Life in Death Valley in the time of COVID

by Joanna Matos
LW contributor

For LWers to sign up for a three-day tour to Death Valley was a tongue-in-cheek way for Elizabeth Kennedy and I to say we want to go travelling in spite of COVID. All 42 passengers on the motorcoach were in the same frame of mind as we headed out for an extensive, guided, sight-seeing trip with a naturalist in Death Valley.

We learned about such incredible must-see sites as Zabriskie Point, a panoramic viewpoint of the Valley floor and its golden-brown mudstone hills; Badwater Basin, the lowest point in the western hemisphere at 282 feet below sea level; Devils Golf Course, a landscape of lumpy crystalline salt pinnacles that are the residue of Death Valley's last significant lake, which evaporated 2,000 years ago; the beautifully colored, 6,000-year-old Ubehebe Crater, which is half a mile in diameter and 600 feet deep; the dedicated ruins of the Harmony Borax Works, the home of the 20-mule Borax team; and the Mesquite Flat Sand Dunes, ranging from small to a cascading 150 feet, whose primary source was the Cottonwood Mountains.

In 1933, Death Valley became a national monument and is known for being the hottest, lowest and driest location in our country. It's renowned for its colorful and complex geology, and its extremes of elevation support a great diversity of life from pupfish to mountain goats. This region is the ancestral homeland of the Timbisha Shoshone Tribe, whose homes are off-limits to tourists. But the Furnace Creek Visitors Center is a great place to experience an appreciation and respect for Death Valley.

In 1994, Death Valley National Monument was expanded by 1.3 million acres and was designated a National Park by the California Desert Protection Act.

We had a true western feeling at our two-night lodging at the Ranch at Death Valley, part of the Oasis at Death Valley. The resort is complemented by three restaurants, a saloon, a general store, the Borax Museum, a spring-fed swimming pool, a golf course, horseback riding and

Members are invited to bring their own lunch, snacks and drinks to enjoy during the presentation on Nov. 17 at noon in Clubhouse 3, Room 9.

The club also belatedly celebrate its 40th anniversary by serving cake. The actual anniversary was in September, but that month's meeting was canceled because of the COVID-19 delta variant outbreak in LW.

Per GRF guidelines, masks are recommended but not required in the clubhouse.

Lunch will not be served, but the club will furnish coffee and hot water for hot chocolate or tea. There will also be sweet treats available. Attendees can supply their own lunches and eat with friends, but the club requests they do so before the games begin.

Men's Golf League Results

Eleven men and one woman of the Leisure World Golf League participated in the Oct. 22 tournament at the par-70, 5,400-yard Meadowlark Golf Course in Huntington Beach. It was an overcast and cool morning with no breeze. Though the sun made a late-morning appearance, it never really warmed up. The course was very wet from overnight watering, and there were numerous puddles and muddy areas. The golfers were unable to overcome these issues, so scores were below average. Only four players scored at or under par.

All scores are net (gross minus handicap). A Flight handicap is 0-20; B Flight, over 20.

A Flight: First place: Dave LaCascia, a nice 67, plus fewest putts; second: Gary Stivers, a well-played 1 under 69; third: Larry Hillhouse, even par 70; fourth: Clay Fischer; fifth: tie between Fujio Norihiro, Bill McKusky and Tim Looney at even par. Hillhouse was the closest to the pin on the 140-yard, par-3 seventh hole.

B Flight: First place: Gene Vesely, a superb 10 under 60, plus closest to the pin on the 150-yard, par-3 16th hole, and tied with Bob Munn for fewest putts; second: Bob Meripol; third: Liz Meripol; fourth: Munn; fifth: Lowell Goltra, who also had the only birdie of the round.

On Oct. 25, nine men took on the par-62, 4,000-yard David L. Baker Executive Golf Course in Fountain Valley. It was a cool, drizzly, overcast morning; the sun came out mid-round, but played peek-a-boo with the clouds. The golfers were able to play through the initial tough weather conditions, with a close to season high of nine birdies.

A Flight: First place: Hillhouse, a very nice 9 under 53, plus fewest putts; second: Fischer, a well-played 8 under 54; third: Norihiro, a sweet 3 under 59, plus closest to the pin on the 100-yard, par-3 third hole; fourth: LaCascia, 1 under 61; fifth: McKusky. Two birdies were carded by Norihiro, and LaCascia had one.

B Flight: First place: Vesely, a spectacular 14 under 48, plus three birdies; second: Munn, an impressive 12 under 50, plus fewest putts and two birdies; third: Bill Zurn, a remarkable 10 under 52; fourth: Chris Lankford, 6 under 56, plus a birdie.

Nine men and one woman traveled to the par-70, 5,600-yard Riverview Golf Course in Santa Ana on Oct. 28. It was an overcast and cool morning, with very wet conditions from overnight watering. The sun tried to break through but never really succeeded. The golfers were scores were below average this round, with just four of the players at or under par, plus six birdies.

A Flight: First place: Fischer, a nice 2 under 68, plus three birdies; second: Norihiro, a hard-earned par 70, plus fewest putts; third: McKusky.

B Flight: First place: Munn, a super 4 under 66, plus closest to the pin on the 150-yard, par-3 second hole; second: Lankford, a good 2 under 68, plus two birdies; third: tie between Liz Meripol and Vesely, a hard-fought even par 70; fourth: tie between Bob Meripol and Goltra, 2 over 72; fifth: Tom Ross, plus closest to the pin on the 100-yard, par-3 ninth hole. Liz Meripol had fewest putts, and Vesely also had a birdie.

Friends, ladies, spouses and family are all welcome to play and/or join. The league plays at four local courses, all within 15 minutes of Leisure World. The courses are always quite full, so advance reservations can be made via a sign-up sheet available at each round.

There is a prize pool for each round that players are not obligated to enter. Rewards are given for low net, birdies, closest to the pin on two par-3s, and the lowest number of putts in each flight. Holes-in-one and eagles (2 under par), although infrequent, are generously rewarded. If interested, contact Gary Stivers at (714) 313-3697 or LaCascia at (801) 674-5975.

SEGERSTROM CENTER FOR THE ARTS

Free concert series celebrates vets all month

Yolanda Johnson, aka Creole Woman, performs Sunday, Nov. 14, in a free concert at 1 p.m. at the Julianne and George Argyros Plaza at the Segerstrom Center for the Arts in Costa Mesa.

Born into a musical family, Johnson has been onstage since the age of 5. She and her father, Lindor “Red” Johnson, performed throughout California; Johnson often carries her father’s sax with her in his memory. Her lifelong love of the blues and jazz, with deep roots in New Orleans, Louisiana, is shared by her All Star Band: bassist Bill “Capt. Swoop” Pitman, keyboard and synth player Norm Weatherly, drummer Billy Butler, guitarist Vernon Neilly, sax-man Kenneth Rice, and vocalist Dianne White.

During November, the Segerstrom Center for the Arts celebrates National Veterans and Military Families Month with a series of free outdoor concerts on Argyros Plaza. The series concludes on Nov. 21 with the Scotty Barnhart Quintet featuring vocalist Natalie Jacob.

Everyone is invited to gather family and friends for an afternoon of live music curated and emceed by Air Force veteran and radio personality Bubba Jackson. Attendees should bring their own chairs and blankets, and they can either purchase food from the center’s George’s Café or bring their own picnic; outside alcohol, glass containers, tables, barbecues and food preparation are not permitted. Masks are strongly encouraged.

Though a free event, tickets are required. They’re available via (714) 556-2787 or www.scfta.org/events/2021/yolanda-johnson.

Pool League

Round seven of the Leisure World Pool League marked the halfway point, wherein every team has played every other team once. Second-place team The Fantastics faced off against league leader 4-20. The Fantastics won four out of seven doubles matches but were only able to win one singles match. The final score was 8-5, with 4-20 stretching their league lead to 10 games. Dave Makinder won five games for 4-20.

In the closest match of the evening, The Favorites edged out Pot Luck 7-6. It went down to the final eight-ball game, with Bill Clawson making the final striped ball for The Favorites to set up Eunis “Wildfire!” Christensen for an easy shot on the eight.

Go for Broke continued its winning ways by defeating Brake ‘em and Make ‘em by a 10-3 margin. Ren Villeneuve, the A player for Go for Broke, logged in a perfect night by winning all seven of his games.

Ace in the Hole improved its record with a 9-4 win over Hot Stix. Zelma Berkenkamp, the C player for Ace in the Hole, won five of her seven games.

The next eight-ball doubles tournament will start at 6:15 p.m. on Nov. 17 in Clubhouse 2. Players should arrive by 6 p.m. so teams can be formed.

Tournaments are limited to 24 players, so those interested should contact Christensen at cashfitt8@icloud.com or (562) 879-1954. The entry fee is $3 for club members and $5 for non-members. Membership is $10 for the year and helps to cover the cost of drinks and snacks.

The adjacent Inn at Death Valley was built in 1927. This AAA-rated four-diamond resort features spectacular views of the Panamint and Funeral Mountains. One of four breakfasts was in the Inn’s large, elegant dining room, which has beam ceilings, large stone fireplaces and floor-to-ceiling windows. It was a grand visual feast for two ladies from Leisure World, Seal Beach.

Good Times Travel requires passengers to be fully vaccinated, show their vaccination cards and ID, and sign a Wellness Pledge and Release of Liability Agreement. All of which helped us survive a day of 35 mph wind gusts, some rain and enchanting sand storms while accessing the must-see sites in Death Valley.

Shuffleboard

The long-delayed Shuffleboard season will begin on Friday, Nov. 12, at 8:30 a.m. with three teams formed from nearly 30 participants, including 13 new players.

Schedules and rosters are available at the courts. Practices will continue to be on Tuesdays and Saturdays at 9 a.m. New players are also welcome.

Shuffleboard is a low-impact sport that gets you off the couch, is easy to learn and is fun exercise. Join the group for the fraternization and socialization—meet new people and have an entertaining time.

There are several tournaments throughout the year, including a Turkey Shoot (normally around Thanksgiving) and a Ham Shoot (at Easter), as well as a special tournament in memory of a passed player. The club periodically sponsors happy hour events, and many attend a luncheon outside the community on the last Friday of the month. There are also plans for evening parties around Christmas, Valentine’s Day and St. Patrick’s Day.

Women's Golf Club

The Nov. 2 Women's Golf Club tournament presented some special challenges. Golfers played from temporary tee boxes because the tee box areas are being seeded and replanted. Also, the greens are being aerated, leaving hole punctures. This process is traditionally done twice a year to help keep the greens in tip-top shape.

There were 45 ladies participating in the weekly competition, playing for low gross, low net and circle hole No. 8, for which golfers attempted to hit the ball from the temporary tee box directly into the circle surrounding Hole 8. The club extends a hearty congratulations to Sally Park, who was the only player whose golf ball landed within the circle.

The flight winners were:

Flight A: Low gross: tie between Linda Herman and Janice Turner, 29; low net: tie between Susie Kim and Jane Song, 27.

Flight B: Low gross: Sally Park, 29; low net: Young Yoon, 23.

Flight C: Low gross: Kay Hong, 31; low net: tie between Marilyn Hewitt, Dale Quinn and Mary Devlin, 23.

Flight D: Low gross: Neva Senske, 38; low net: Joyce Bausch, 24.

Joyce Basch won six out of seven games but was out of money.

The club thanks Bob Berry and Irvine Bernstein for the ice cream sandwiches and drumsticks they served to the 58 cribbage players assembled. Members who want to bring cake and ice cream in celebration of birthdays or any other special occasion may sign up on the calendar, available at the front table at meetings. Serving begins at noon.

Seven games of cribbage are played each Tuesday in Clubhouse 1 beginning at 12:30 p.m. Yearly dues are $3, plus $1 each week to be paid at the table.

Family and friends throw a parade for Lois' 106 birthday

laurieb@lwsb.com

Friends, family, former co-workers and neighbors all stopped by to wish Lois Campbell of Mutual 17 a happy 106th birthday on Nov. 7. Lois' family had orchestrated an outdoor party featuring vintage and luxury cars from around Seal Beach along with a visit from a Seal Beach police officer and Andrew Digiovanna, Congresswoman Michelle Steel's Deputy District Director.

Lois was born on Nov. 1, 1915, in Indiana and was the eldest of four children. She moved to South Dakota with her family at the age of 2 and then moved back to Fairbanks, Indiana, where she went to high school.

During a routine trip to the dentist, Lois was encouraged to further her education after high school to become a nurse. Her dentist had even offered to help pay her tuition, with the expectation that she would be able to pay him back once she became a nurse. After speaking to her father, who said he would be able to fund her studies, Lois studied nursing at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis. Thus beginning her life long love of caring for people and helping them heal from their injuries.

Lois moved to California with her husband in 1952, and they eventually had two children, Anne and Jim, when Lois was 40 and 42. "Becoming a mother was the best thing," she said. "All my life, I wanted to be a mom. I worshiped my kids because I had waited so long to have them."

She remembers driving past Leisure World before it was built when it was just a field of onions and rabbits. She would drive past it on her way to the hospital for one of her nursing shifts. She has lived in Leisure World since 1985.

Lois' 100th birthday stands out as one of her favorite memories, as it was the first time anyone had thrown her a surprise party. She said that she also has fond memories of birthdays during her childhood, when friends would spend the night at her house and they would celebrate by eating homemade angel food cake.

"I've had a great life," she said with a smile.

SENIOR PEACE CLUB

Next peaceful protest will focus on reproductive rights

The Senior Peace Club's next peaceful protest will be held in front of the Leisure World Globe on Wednesday, Nov. 24, from 4:30-5:30 p.m. The focus will be reproductive rights in light of recent laws enacted in Texas and other states with the intent to get rid of Roe v. Wade.

Even though the club believes chances are good that the Supreme Court will overturn Texas' abortion ban, many people are concerned it is another sign that

Roe v. Wade will be overturned in the not-so-distant future, taking the country back to the days when the only options for most women with unwanted pregnancies were back-alley abortions or self-induced ones, resulting in thousands of women dying or being horribly injured every year.

The Senior Peace Club believes women can only be independent and free agents when they have the right to control their own bodies. Women struggled long and hard for that freedom and will not give it up without another long, hard fight.

Signs will be available at the demonstration, but people are encouraged to make and bring their own appropriate signs. Everyone who is concerned about this issue is welcome to participate.

• There is only one valid solution to each Sudoku puzzle. The only way the puzzle can be considered solved correctly is when all 81 boxes contain numbers and the other Sudoku rules have been followed.
• When you start a game of Sudoku, some blocks will be pre-filled for you. You cannot change these numbers in the course of the game.
• Each column must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same column of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.
• Each row must contain all of the numbers 1 through 9 and no two numbers in the same row of a Sudoku puzzle can be the same.

Republican Club

by Brian Harmon
LW contributor

The Republican Club will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 17 at 7 p.m., in Clubhouse 3 Room 2. Jovanka, who does not want her last name published, will be the featured speaker. Jovanka, who immigrated to the United States from the former Communist Yugoslavia, will tell the club what life was like for her under Communist rule. "People here do not realize how terrible it was to live in a country without freedom," she said. Some immigrants from formerly Communist countries applaud their native lands for having a very low crime rate, where it is possible to safely walk the streets at any time of day or night. Crime rates were low in those countries, but few people realize the terrible price people paid, according to Jovanka. "You are watched wherever you go, and even inside your own apartment, you are always afraid of who might be listening," she said. For those who enjoy living in their own house, she says, "that is impossible in Communist countries unless you are a member of the Communist Party." Less than 10 percent of the people were party members and they were required to spy on their neighbors and anyone else they ran across, reporting them to the authorities for anything they said that was unfavorable to any government policy, she added. Her talk will be followed by a discussion of current issues including:

- The recent Republican victories in the recent election, especially in Virginia
- Critical Race Theory being taught in public schools
- The Los Alamitos School Board
- Illegal immigration and border security
- Social issues such as the pro-life movement
- The approximately $4.5 trillion in new spending being debated in Congress
- The end of American military presence in Afghanistan
- The existential threat of China to the U.S.

The recent Republican victories in Virginia included those for governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general. These offices were won by a white male, a Black female and a Latino male, respectively.

How to protect yourself against scam callers

by Laurie Bullock
laurieb@lwsb.com

Scammers can be relentless, especially once they get you on a phone call. Their main strategy is to scare or overwhelm you once you pick up the phone, so that it is more difficult to make a clear and rational decision. A scammer could tell you a number of different stories to get important information from you. They could pretend to be a grandchild in trouble or a medicare representative, or they could even pose as something positive such as a lottery or sweepstakes company; whatever story they come up with, it's important to remain as calm as possible and do what you can to protect yourself. One easy way to avoid scam calls is to send all unknown callers straight to voicemail. Scammers search out easy targets who do not have time to think things through, so they will not leave a voicemail asking for you to call them back. If you are worried about missing a call from a friend you don't have saved in your contacts or from a doctor's office, remember that the people you know or who have a legitimate need to contact you will either leave a voicemail or will send you a text. While it won't stop every scammer from calling your phone, you can register your phone number with the National Do Not Call Registry. Register your number by calling 1-888-382-1222. This will prevent most, if not all telemarketers from being able to call you, and the rest of the blocked or unknown numbers will likely be a scam. Smart phone users can use apps or change their phone settings to send unknown callers straight to voicemail. iPhone users can set this up by going to their settings, choosing the "phone" option, selecting the "Silence Unknown Callers" option, and sliding the toggle button on. Android users can use apps such as the Call Blocker Free, Privacy Star or RoboKiller, or contact their service provider to see the in-network solutions available to them. If you do pick up the phone and suspect it is a scam, hang up immediately. Do not feel guilty or think you are being rude for hanging up on someone mid-sentence without an explanation. The scammer who is trying to take advantage of you is the one who is rude, and you are within your right to protect yourself by hanging up on them. The scammer might call back immediately a few times, but keep sending their call to voicemail until they stop calling.

Korean American Classical Music Association will meet from 9:30-11:30 a.m. in Clubhouse 2 on Nov. 18, Dec. 9 and 16. There will be a holiday luncheon after the Dec. 16 class.

Democratic Club

by Mary Larson
LW contributor

Democratic Club leaders are continuing their efforts to help voters understand the implications of the proposed recall of three of the Los Alamitos School Board members. Voters are urged to refuse to sign petitions in support of putting this recall effort on their 2022 ballot. For more information about the possible recall, go to go to the club's website at <https://sblwdems.wordpress.com>. Voters are also encouraged to do their own research concerning this situation, As club leaders are concerned about misinformation currently circulating in LW. Democratic Club leaders are also closely monitoring the Orange County Board of Supervisors' efforts to redraw the shape of their districts. In a hearing that lasted more than two hours, the public recently had an opportunity to tell the supervisors which of eight proposed redistricting proposals they preferred. As the meeting progressed, it became apparent that, as reported by Voice of OC, "a showdown is happening between two competing maps that will reshape the political landscape at the top of the powerful county government for Orange County's 3.2 million residents." The dispute appears to be over which proposal dilutes which minority voters. Proposal 5 supporters said their plan would ensure Latino voters are not diluted in other districts. They also indicated that their support for Proposal 5 grew out of an outreach process to hear from residents about which neighborhoods they want to be included with. The majority of these speakers represented community organizations that had banded together as the People's Redistricting Alliance. An ACLU spokesperson for Proposal 5 said, "The board cannot draw the Latinx district, which is required [by the Voting Rights Act]...in such a way to limit Latinx influence in other districts to favor a political party or to discriminate against a political party." Proposal 2 supporters maintained it would have the strongest Asian-American district. They said it would also create a majority Latino district centered on Santa Ana and Anaheim.

There were no speakers in support of any of the remaining proposals. Before the meeting was over, the Board had eliminated consideration of all of the proposals except 2, 4 and 5. The Board's decision means that regardless of whatever proposal they finally adopt, Leisure World will no longer be represented by Democratic Supervisor Katrina Foley. Beginning in January 2023, LW's representative will be Republican Board Chair Andrew Do (District 1), whose term in office does not end until 2025 or Democrat Doug Chaffee (District 4), if he is re-elected in 2022. None of the Supervisors has indicated publicly which proposal they prefer. However, two speakers in support of Proposal 2 thanked Do for his support of their position. LW Democrats and supporters interested in receiving in-depth, up-to-date reporting on the issues can subscribe to the club's free electronic newsletter by emailing democraticclubsblw@gmail.com or calling editor Mary Larson at (562) 296-8521.
